CITY'S BUDGET SUBMITTED

BOARD WINS PLEA FOR PROJECT

City Attorney to Prepare Ordinance Authorizing Vote on Issue

The City Council this morning, by a vote of three to two, ordered City Attorney Ray L. Morrow to prepare an ordinance calling for a special bond election to provide funds in the amount of $47,000 for the Glendale Public Library.

Councilman Sam Davis, C. E. Kimlin and S. S. Gilhuly voted in favor of the election, while Mayor Spencer Robinson and Councilman Asa Hall were lined up on the negative side.

Following their promise last week to call the election, the matter was reconsidered, and the members of the library board met with the council in committee of the whole this morning and evidently carried their point that the library bonds should not be connected with any issue for municipal fire purposes.

Mayor Spencer Robinson opposed the calling of the election for the library bonds alone, and he was supported by Councilman Hall, on the ground that it entailed too much expense to the city, estimated at $700, when another bond election would undoubtedly have to be called soon.

Will Select Date

Councilman Davis, who voted last week to reconsider the matter, was aligned with Councilman Kimlin and Gilhuly this week and the motion carried.

When asked by T. W. Preston, president of the library board, as to the probable date of the election, City Attorney Ray L. Morrow could not give a definite answer. The library board will meet Monday night and select a date for the election, which if approved by the council, will be accepted.

CHINESE BANDITS SEIZE AMERICANS

Two Missionaries Captured Leading Rescue Party Against Brigands

PEKING, May 29.—Chinese bandits have captured Rex Ray, missionary of the Southern Baptist convention with headquarters at Richmond, Va., and Dr. H. O. Miller, a Christian alliance missionary, with headquarters in New York, while they were heading a rescue party to the relief of the American Christian alliance mission at Kweilin, according to word reaching here this afternoon.

Two British subjects in the party were also captured, the report stated. Ray and Miller learning of the murder of two American missionaries at Kweilin, and that six others at that point were in danger, headed a relief expedition toward Kweilin when they were captured by bandits at Taiwang.

Councilman Davis In Move to Reduce Drug Store 'Shots'

All was quiet in the City Council room Friday as Councilman Davis arose. "Mr. Mayor," he said, "I move you that the city ordinance be amended to read that the limit of any prescription that can be filled at one time at a drug store be four ounces, instead of eight."

"Won't that necessitate a great many trips to the druggists for some people, Councilman Davis?" asked the mayor.

"Well, they run the tent show out of town and now I want to see what they will do with the bootleggers. The bootleggers are getting most of the money anyway, might as well let them have all of it."

Councilman Gilhuly seconded the motion and it was carried unanimously. The natural inference is that Councilman Davis referred to whiskey when making his motion, but he did not say that.

PLANS TO BOOST NAVY'S STRENGTH

Britten Wants $6,500,000 To Increase Range of Warships' Guns

WASHINGTON, May 29.—Continuing his fight to make the United States navy equal in strength to that of Great Britain and Japan, Representative Fred Britten, Republican, Illinois, announced today that he would push his bill to appropriate $6,500,000 to elevate the guns on thirteen American warships to increase their firing range.

The proposal was rejected by the House in passing the bill for new naval construction, but Britten will force another vote on it as a separate measure.

Approve Reduction In Bank's Interest Rate

WASHINGTON, May 29.—The Federal Reserve board today approved the application of the Cleveland Federal Reserve bank to reduce its rediscount rate from 4 1/2 to 4 per cent, effective June first. A similar application was recently approved for the New York Federal Reserve bank.

LATEST NEWS

AVERS TREASURY FACES HUGE DEFICIT
WASHINGTON, May 29.—The United States treasury faces a deficit of from $130,000,000 to $300,000,000 in the next fiscal year if President Coolidge signs the new compromise tax bill, Senator Smoot, Republican, Utah, chairman of the Senate finance committee, declared today. Smoot denied reports that he had predicted a surplus under the new revenue measure. The bill, he explained, will bring in a surplus only over the appropriations ordered by the budget bureau, but will not cover the cost of farm relief legislation or a score of other expenditures ordered by Congress.

JAPAN EMBASSY RECEIVES TOKIO PROTEST
WASHINGTON, May 29.—The Japanese embassy late this afternoon received from Tokio the text of the protest which Ambassador Hanihara will make to Secretary of State Hughes against the Japanese exclusion provision of the new immigration law. At a late hour Hanihara had not made an engagement with Hughes for presenting the protest.

Bryan Reveals He Has Four Degrees For College Work

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich., Taking a fling at Dr. Theodore S. Henry, professor of psychology at Western State Normal, Kalamazoo, who in a recent address here said "Bryan doesn't know what he's talking about when he discusses evolution," William Jennings Bryan made a challenge today for "any son of an ape to match cards with me."

"I have never considered myself more than an average man," the commoner said, "but it is not boasting when I state that I have an education. I can write after my name—AB, AM, LLB and LL.D. I have never done so, but if some people keep on calling me an ignoramus I am going to have cards printed large enough to have these titles on."

'SLIP' HALTS BROADWAY WIDENING

Faulty Measurement of Lots Puts Obstacle In Way Of Street Work

Another obstacle in the path of the proposed widening of West Broadway from Central avenue to San Fernando road was uncovered this morning, when Ray L. Morrow, city attorney, informed the Council that a "slip" of 32 feet existed on that street between Pacific avenue and San Fernando road.

He added that at least one title company had refused to give title to any of the property between these boundaries and for that reason the work was temporarily held up.

Subdividers' Error
The trouble dates back to when the tract was originally laid out, said the city attorney. The first subdividers, instead of measuring their property from the center of San Fernando road, took the distance from the corner of the property line on the eastern side of the road, and as a consequence there are more lots than property. In many cases the houses are built directly on what should technically be the dividing line between lots.

O. M. Newby, who has been a moving factor in working for the improvement ever since it was started, insisted that the council either rush the proceedings covering the street from Central avenue to San Fernando road, or else abandon these and proceed with the widening of the street from Central avenue to San Fernando road.

ARSENAL BLASTS ROCK BUCHAREST

Residents Flee Homes When Series of Explosions Spreads Ruin

BUCHAREST, May 29.—A whole section of this city was deserted and deserted today, as a result of a series of explosions resulting from the burning of a great government arsenal. Inter-mittent explosions continue. The schools have been closed. The damage is estimated at more than $5,000,000. While no loss of life was reported, many persons were injured.

Members of the Roumanian royal family and the former king and queen of Greece fled from the Cotroceni palace when one explosion only two miles distant rocked the building and sent the plaster crashing from the ceilings. Parliament was forced to suspend its session.

MAKE PLANS TO CARE FOR GLENDALE GROWTH

Sum of $90,000 to Be Spent On Improvements for Institution Here

Vivid reflection of the growth of the city of Glendale and its continued prosperity is seen in plans announced this morning by Fred Deal, manager of the Pacific Telephone & Telegraph company, for a $90,000 addition that will considerably more than double the size of Glendale's telephone switching building.

A permit was taken out today by Mr. Deal calling for a building costing $73,000, the contract for which is in the hands of the Martins Construction company of Los Angeles.

Three Stories, Basement

The addition will extend to the end of the company's property at 125 South Brand boulevard, extending an additional ninety-two feet to the alley. It will consist of three stories and basement, and will be of concrete and steel construction.

Manager Deal stated that the new building will be erected as rapidly as possible, and that new equipment will be installed in it to meet the telephone needs of Glendale until 1930, at the present estimated rate of growth.

Three Projects
The big task of installing the intricate switching apparatus is to be divided into three projects, according to Mr. Deal. The first of these will be under way even before the finishing touches have been put on the building, and the last of the three will be completed early in 1926, according to the present plan.

Following completion of the building, re-arrangements will be made in order to expand every department of the local telephone organization. The business office will be enlarged.

Plan Changes
When the changes are completed, the first floor of the building will include the business office, operators' cafeteria, rest room and kitchen.

Switchboards and all associated equipment will be installed on the second and third floors.

Switchboard additions even now under way in the Glendale building represent an expenditure of more than $50,000, according to Mr. Deal.

The first of the three equipment projects scheduled for the enlarged building will cost approximately $33,000.

SOCIAL EVENTS

Conference Lunch

Glendale Parent-Teacher association members are to have a conference luncheon Wednesday June 11, at the Central Christian church instead of the annual picnic outing. This plan was decided upon yesterday when the courtesy chairman of the various associations met with Mrs. Grant, chairman of courtesy for the Federation, at the Chamber of Commerce offices.

Honored guest at the luncheon will be Mrs. Shelton Bissell, retiring president of the First District, who will install the newly-elected officers of the Glendale Federation of Parent-Teacher associations.

Each courtesy chairman is to handle the luncheon tickets in her particular schools. In this way the reservations can be handled easily.

War Mothers Meet

Interesting reports from the recent state convention held in Fresno was the special feature of the meeting of the Glendale War Mothers held yesterday afternoon in the Glendale Presbyterian church.

The meeting convened at 2 o'clock with the president, Mrs.
Josephine C. C. in charge. Mrs.
C. C. attended the Fresno gathering and Mrs. J. N. McGillis attended as official delegate from the local chapter. In giving their reports they discussed several of the resolutions passed by the organization relative to caring for the insane ex-service men and the promises made by the American business men to the boys at the beginning of the war. Other resolutions of importance to War Mothers and veterans were also discussed.

The convention of disabled veterans was held in Fresno at the same time the War Mothers' meeting was held and plans were made for both organizations to meet on May 13, 14 and 15 in 1925 in San Diego.

The state officers elected at the convention of War Mothers are as follows: President, Mrs. M. E.
Dodge of Fresno, corresponding secretary, Mrs. Cole of Richmond; recording secretary, Mrs. Norton of Sacramento, and treasurer, Mrs. Lamb of Sacramento.

During the afternoon reports of the local relief committee were given when it was announced a physician from Texas declares he has found a cure for tuberculosis and has taken six veterans to the Rest Camp at Altadena for treatment. The local chapter expect to inaugurate plans for securing blankets and bed linen for the Rest Camp which are greatly needed.

Picnic in Park

Eagle Rock park has been selected by the Glendale Benefit Reading circle as the place for the annual picnic, Wednesday, June 18. Announcement of plans for the picnic was made yesterday at the regular meeting at the Public Library.

Tickets for the picnic lunch will be on sale at the circle meeting next week. Each paid-up member will be privileged to bring one guest. Everyone attending is to bring a plate, knife, fork, spoon and cup.

Mrs. H. V. Henry, chairman, presided over yesterday's meeting. Mrs. Arthur Franklin and Mrs.
Small are to serve as the tea committee during June.

Of much interest were the sketches given by Mrs. Campbell from "Child Training" by Angelo Patri.

In the afternoon after roll call Mrs. W. A. Saylor gave a talk on the "Moonlight Schools of Kentucky," as told at the recent Chautaqua by Mrs. Steward, the founder; and Mrs. C. H. Crawford continued reading from the study book "Training the Child in Religion" by George Hodges.

Luncheon Guest

Mrs. Daniel Campbell, president of the Tuesday Afternoon club was the honor guest at the luncheon given yesterday at the clubhouse by the members of the American Citizenship and Legislation department, of which Miss Ida D. Myers is curator.

Miss Myers gave the greeting of welcome to which Mrs. Campbell responded in her usual pleasing manner.

While still seated at the luncheon table the members read clippings pertaining to American citizenship and legislative matters. This was followed by a short discussion.

The members then adjourned to the terrace where Mrs. Myers conducted a symposium on having courage to live up to our convictions. This proved a most interesting discussion.

Miss Myers was unanimously re-elected curator for the coming year and Mrs. N. E. Richardson secretary.

Radio sets are now being made in the form of attractive furniture of different designs for the living room.

Brilliant Tea

One of the delightful affairs which are so brilliantly closing the social season was the elaborate tea yesterday, with which Chapter L.P.E.O. entertained the officers of the California state chapter and members of the sisterhood in Glendale.

The Tuesday Afternoon clubhouse was most artistically decorated for the occasion, yellow and white, the P.E.O. colors largely predominating in the spring flowers used in the reception rooms and tea room.

The guests were greeted on their arrival by Mrs. Daniel Campbell, Mrs. A. C. Reed and Mrs. Charles Farnham and in turn were presented to the receiving line which included Mrs. E.
U. Emery, president of chapter L and the past presidents of the chapter.

As chapter L is the senior chapter in Glendale and has had the pleasure of assisting at the organization of all the four other chapters, it was most fitting that the members of these more recent organizations should have the pleasure of being presented first to Mrs. R. D. Goss, first president of chapter L and her daughter, Mrs. Emma Burket, also a past president, both of whom were the prime movers in the organization of chapter L nearly two decades ago.

Other past presidents in line were Mrs. C. E. Russell, Miss Ruth Byram, Mesdames J. G.
Huntley, A. L. Bryant, R. A.
Blackburn, P. E. Maxwell, H. E.
Bartlett, Ed M. Lee, and H. D.
Goss.

A very delightful program arranged by Miss Isabel Isgrig, Mrs.
Harriet Randall and Mrs. Frank
C. Weller, included "The Zincali" (David Stanley Smith) and "To a Wild Rose" (MacDowell) sung by a double trio, Miss Isabel Isgrig, Mesdames William A.

Geo. W. H. Peart, H. D. Goss, P.
E. Maxwell, and Frank C. Weller; whistling solos "An Irish Folk Song" (Footes) and "Villanelle" (Acqua) by Miss Isabel Isgrig; readings by Mrs. H. D. Goss "The Discontented Seed" (William Dean Howells), "Gossips" (Wilcox) and "Somebody Did" (Foley) and as a fitting recognition of the approach of Memorial day the soprano solo "Old Glory" with little Edith Goss as color bearer, the members and guests standing and closing the program by singing "The Star Spangled Banner."

Later the guests were served tea, coffee, dainty sandwiches and cakes, in the Italian tea room. The tea tables were most attractive with tall yellow candles and Scotch broom. Mrs. Charles H.
Temple and Mrs. C. W. Mc-Fadden poured. Those assisting in the tea room were Mrs. Norman Hunt, Mrs. F. H. Dow and Mrs. A. D. Pearce. Mrs. Charles
H. Temple was general chairman,
Mesdames C. W. McFadden and Norman Hunt assisting. The decorations were in the hands of Mrs.
A. D. Pearce, Mrs. A. M. Hunt and Mrs. Garfield Jones.

Out of town guests were Mrs.
Ollie P. Cramer, of Los Angeles, past president of California state chapter; Mrs. Faith Storey, Burbank, first vice president; Mrs.
Laurie B. Fadden, second vice president, and Mrs. Anna S. Robbins, Long Beach, state organizer.
Glendale guests were members of chapters AH, BA, CJ, DJ, and unaffiliated members now residing or visiting in Glendale.

Bridge Luncheon

Mrs. G. G. Bine of 1012 North
Louis street was hostess yesterday to the members of the Auction Science Bridge club when she entertained with a 1 o'clock luncheon at the Oakmont Country club.

The luncheon table was centered with an artistic arrangement of spring flowers and placed away from the guests were carried out in the floral design.

The afternoon was devoted to playing bridge for which prizes were awarded to Mrs. Albert Draper and Mrs. William MacPherson.

Those present included Mesdames William MacPherson, Heloise Bondeaux, Darwin Chesney,
Hugh Blue, Ernest East, Forest
Rogers, J. W. Hout, Reed Heustis, Albert Draper, H. T. Balthis, James Everington, John Moore,
Donald Baxter, Burton, and Miss Ann Morgan.

Elected Curator

Mrs. S. Prince Davis, Tuesday Afternoon club member now traveling in Europe, was chosen yesterday by the Travel department as curator for the coming year.
Mrs. T. G. Widmeyer was elected secretary-treasurer.

The meeting was held at the regular morning hour in the clubhouse with Mrs. Mabel Franklin Ocker, curator, presiding. It was the final meeting of the year.

After business affairs had been dispensed with the department greeted Mrs. David E. Henry of Los Angeles, who appeared in native costume of the Philippine islands. She spoke on the customs of the island people and showed many interesting curios.

Ohio Professor Has

Plan to Outlaw War

COLUMBUS, Ohio, May 29.—
"War will continue to embroil the universe until it is outlawed in hymn books and Bibles," Rev.
Dan Bradley, of Cleveland, declared here.

"So long as children are taught that the war-like beliefs of Gideon, David, Joab and other persistent warriors were God-given, war cannot be eliminated," the pastor said.

Rev. Bradley urged that "true religion, instead of the doctrine of war," be taught in the church.

ELECTRIC FIRM EMPLOYEES PLAN ANNUAL PICNIC

Over One Hundred to Spend Day at Long Beach In Having Good Time

Employees of the J. A. Newton Electric company, 154 South Brand boulevard, will journey to Long Beach tomorrow morning, where the annual outing of the firm will be held. The total number of employees and their families planning on taking the trip is nearly 100.

Leaving Glendale at 8:30 o'clock, the caravan of eighteen cars will drive directly to Bixby park, where an elaborate program of events will be run through. These include all kinds of novelty races, rope skipping for the girls, a tug-of-war and a pie eating contest.

The feature of the program will be a baseball game between two teams of the firm known as the Knobs and the Tubes. Fifteen events will be run off during the day, and prizes will be presented to the winners in each event.

Mr. Newton has established the custom of the annual outings for the purpose of obtaining closer contact between himself and the employees, and between the employees themselves. He feels that in a firm as large as the Newton Electric company has become, it is necessary to have informal social functions in order that the employees may become well acquainted.

A picnic lunch will be served at noon, and the program will be continued until near dinner time, when the majority of those present will return to Glendale.

Three Teams Tied for Top of Twilight Loop

The Jesse E. Smith Ford team lost to the Piggy Wiggly nine by the score of 16 to 3 last night in the twilight game played on the Harvard High school diamond. The win puts three teams tied for first place.

The next game on the schedule will take place at 7 o'clock Tuesday night, between the Postoffice team and the Piggy Wiggly outfit. On Wednesday the Standard Oil team meets the Public Service bunch, and on Thursday the Labor Union will take on the Jesse E. Smith Fords.

The standing to date is as follows:

| Team | W. | L. |
|----------------|----|----|
| Piggy-Wiggly | 2 | 0 |
| Standard Oil | 1 | 0 |
| Public Service | 1 | 0 |
| Labor Union | 0 | 1 |

Nine Headline Acts To Be Presented At Big Benefit Show For Knights Templar

The variety show to be staged at the Broadway High school auditorium next Thursday night, June 5, by Glendale Commandery, No. 53, Knights Templar, promises to be one of the best performances of its kind ever seen in the city.

It is being put on by W. W. Worley, as a benefit for the drill team, and numbers nine headline attractions, including Lois Naudain in a charming toe dance, "Vanity Fair," and Ettore Campana, noted tenor, who will sing the famous "Prologue" from "Pagliacci," and "Toreador's Song" from "Carmen."

Quartet to Sing
Another big feature will be the Orpheus Four, who are popular throughout Southern California. A sparkling comedy in one act, "He Said and She Said," according to Mr. Worley, will present Sylvia Florian, Cortesia Ord, Virginia Barber and Bednarz.

With the exception of Miss Naudain's act, every number on the program is either professional or semi-professional talent, according to Mr. Worley. Thayer, "the mystifier," whose deceptions have caused him to earn the slogan, "the more you watch, the less you see," is said to be the largest manufacturer of articles of magic in the United States.

Help Drill Team

Other numbers on the program are: Mrs. W. G. Barber in a reading, "Mantowana," by T. B. Aldrich, Grace Caldwell Bennett at the piano; A. E. Kachel in "Melting Pot," a stirring Russian drama; Calmon Luboviski, violin artist, in Kreisler and Sarasate numbers, and the Glendale Union High School orchestra of thirty pieces.

The proceeds from this big show will enable the drill team of Glendale Commandery, No. 53, Knights Templar, to go to Seattle in July of 1925, Mr. Worley states, to compete with Commandery drill teams from all parts of the country. The team comprises thirty-three members, headed by Thomas D. Watson, commandant, and Owen C. Emery and E. O. Kiefer, guards.

'TIGER LOVE' HAS WORN-OUT THEME

Spanish Flavor Fails to Add Spice to Old Plot In Theatre's Program

"Tiger Love," the feature picture at the T. D. & L. Theatre today with the regular vaudeville bill, has nothing to recommend it to persons craving something new in films. The plot is centuries old, and the picture seems to have been swept on the market in the wake of the recent popularity of films having a Spanish flavor.

Antonio Moreno and Estella Taylor strive hard to lift the picture out of the ordinary, but it can't be done. The vaudeville bill is below par this week. Noodles Fagan, billed as the famous Pantages headliner, casts doubt on that fact. A musical act depends on time-worn numbers, an imitator tries to get across and two tumbler cavort around a little. On the whole, it is uninteresting.

The most famous street of bookstores is Charing Cross, London.

SAM SEELIG TO START SEVENTH STORE SATURDAY

New Market Is Located at Central Avenue and Los Feliz Road

The seventh Sam Seelig market opens in Glendale on Saturday, May 31, the location being the new Jefferson block at the corner of Central avenue and Los Feliz road. To celebrate this new step in the policy of expansion in this city, the management announces that special prices will prevail at this store on opening day, and that prizes will be given to all customers.

The market comprises grocery, fruit and vegetable and meat departments. The special prices will include practically all articles in the market. Free carry-all bags will be given with nominal purchases. Toy brooms will be given with purchases of parlor brooms. An eighth of a pound of butter will be given free with each package of Snowflake crackers. The management assures the kiddies that the supply of free gum is limitless.

The fact that the Sam Seelig company has seen fit to establish seven branches in Glendale speaks well for the future of the city, it is felt, as this company looks well ahead when "putting in markets." Business men of the Central avenue and Los Feliz road district, where the new store is located, regard the presence there of a Sam Seelig market as a good omen for the development of the entire district.

Modernist Clash In Assembly Unsettled

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich., May 29.—With the 136th general assembly of the Presbyterian church in the United States of America a thing of the past, the modernist-fundamentalist clash which featured it today was as unsettled as ever. Shortly before it closed the assembly adopted the majority report of the judiciary commission recommending that Harry Emerson Fosdick, Baptist minister, acting as supply pastor of the First Presbyterian church, New York, be notified to accept the doctrinal standards of the Presbyterian church or relinquish his pulpit. A report is to be made at the next meeting of the assembly, a year hence. As a result the whole controversy is simply deferred, not disposed of.

May Refuse Bishop's Plea In Heresy Quiz

CLEVELAND, May 29.—Whether Bishop William Montgomery Brown, on trial here for heresy, is to be allowed to interrogate 125 of his fellow bishops in the Episcopal church as to their views on doctrine and orthodoxy, remained still an undecided question today after a hectic session of the trial, in which counsel for the accused bishop constantly challenged the court to define the present-day doctrine of the church.

Affirm Verdict for $2500 for Actress

LOS ANGELES, May 29.—Verdict for $2500 was on record here today in favor of Pauline Hall, screen actress, following affirming by the state supreme court of a superior court decision.

Hall sued Gertrude Steele, beauty specialist, for $15,000 damages because an operation, to make her lower lip more comely, failed, contrary to promises of the specialists.

Boy's Slayer Believed Hiding In Coast Town

LOS ANGELES, May 29.—A man said to answer the description of the slayer of Robert Franks, son of the Chicago millionaire, is under surveillance in a small town near here, the sheriff's office declared today. If a re-check of descriptions shows the suspect to closely answer that of the Chicago murderer, the man will be arrested.

Recall for Italian Envoy to U. S. Looms

ROME, May 29.—It was reported today this afternoon that the recall of Prince Celasio Casetani, Italian ambassador to the United States, is under consideration. Premier Mussolini and his colleagues in the government are greatly disappointed that diplomatic pressure at Washington failed to bring about modification of the immigration law.

Graham Crackers

By F. A. GRAHAM

The eighth wonder of the world is that the film on which Eleanor Glyn's "Three Weeks" was recorded did not explode.

People who live in celluloid bungalows shouldn't make pets of fireflies.

The prize winner who suggested "Liberty" as a name for that movie magazine doubtless will have more of it now that he has the $25,000 prize money.

A medical student in Laval University, Quebec, won a $35,000 prize in an international contest for his penmanship. His signature will now look very beautiful on checks.

The finest example of calligraphy ever seen by yours truly was: "Please find check enclosed."

SOME SAGE SAID THERE IS NOTHING IN A NAME, BUT—N. J. CROAKE IS AN M. D.

The pathfinder propounds this interrogation, which means, in any place outside of Boston, that it craves to know: "Do you know what kind of vines to cultivate in order to make the home more attractive?" The answer is easy: The "clinging" variety.

An alleged race horse at Exposition park tried to nudge a truck off the race course with its head. The horse probably was sensitive and took the presence of the truck as a personal insult.

Coming events still cast their flickering shadows before. The film director who made the picture, "Divorce," is reported in-involved in a personal separation scenario.

The California Development association has declared that 1924 will be the most prosperous year in the history of the state. A strong indication of this prosperity is seen in this note from the market page: "Cheese is firm."

Kansas farm loans are based on the poultry maintained by the farmers according to a report by bankers. Kansas is not broke, yet underhand, but there is a Great Bend in the state.

A San Francisco man in suing for divorce said that, although his wife left him for no cause and refused to return, they are friends still. There was no argument, there was She said, "I'm going." He said, "All right." She put on her coat, she put on her hat. Then slammed the door and left papa flat.

ACCUSED BY JULIAN

LOS ANGELES, May 29.—Three government officials today faced suits demanding $100,000, following action taken by C. C. Julian, California oil operator. Julian alleges that W. I. Maderia, postal inspector, and Morris Norcor and David V. Cahill, special assistants to the attorney-general in oil prosecutions, damaged him by falsely attacking one of his companies.

Pupils of Senior H. S. Class Observe Annual Ditch Day

Seniors were decidedly a minus quantity at the Glendale Union High school this afternoon, for they all departed around 11:30 o'clock for parts unknown, without saying why, where to, or when they would return. The occasion of the exodus was the annual senior "Ditch Day," when the members of the graduating class quietly slip away for an outing, far away from reminders of studies and the classroom. Although classes are cut ruthlessly, the "Office" usually seems to have a premonition of what is happening, and the consequences of the forbidden act are not drastic. The seniors are frolicking today at Crystal Pier, Santa Monica.

DEPICTS VARIED TYPES OF WOMEN IN CLUB SKETCH

Mary B. Darrow's Imitations
Show Dramatic Talent
At Women's Meet

A simple-hearted Swedish girl looking for a "yob," a witty Irish maid, a dashing moving picture queen making a personal appearance, a sweet old-fashioned miss and a miserly old English charwoman all put in their appearance yesterday afternoon at the meeting of the La Cresenta Women's club at the La Cresenta schoolhouse, where Mary B. Darrow gave a versatile portrayal of these characters.

It was Mrs. Darrow's first attempt at characterization work and if the any compliments she received may be taken as a basis of judgment she is possessed of talent of a most promising nature.

Dickens Character
While each character was cleverly depicted she did perhaps the best work in the character of the English charwoman, a stooped shouldered old hag, who might well have stepped out of one of Dickens' novels to soliloquize in a raspy voice over her beloved gold, for which she was willing to starve herself and finally die.

The club women are looking forward eagerly to their annual luncheon at the Oakmont Country club on Monday.

Honored guest and speaker on this occasion will be Mrs. Willoughby Rodman, who spoke recently before the Glendale College Women's club. It was Mrs. Rodman's privilege to attend the conference at The Hague and later to travel about the world studying conditions and activities of women of various countries.

Helping Russians
In her travels she enjoyed unusual advantages in coming in contact with all classes of people. She is now actively engaged in assisting Russian students and is speaking in this cause in America.

At the club meeting yesterday Mrs. Darrow was chosen as official delegate to the biennial June 3 to 13 in Los Angeles.

STUDENTS FROLIC ON CLASS PICNIC

Wilson Avenue Pupils Motor
To Brookside Park for Games and Supper

The A-B II class of Wilson Avenue school held its class picnic yesterday afternoon at Brookside park, in Pasadena. Through the courtesy of a number of the parents and teachers, the trip was made in private machines, leaving the school grounds at the close of class hours, and arriving at the park in good season for a swim in the plunge and a baseball game before time for enjoying the picnic supper.

The pupils were accompanied by the class teacher, Miss Mary Circle; Misses Zoe Thompson, Ethel Chase, Pearl Webster, Charles E. Merrill of the faculty of Wilson school. Parents who were special guests were Mesdames W. C. Rieth, A. L. Morgan, R. E. Evans, Messrs. W. E. Routt, W. L. Colton, D. Michel.

A party of fifteen students of the A-7 IV civics class and their teacher, from Glendale Avenue school, were entertained at the City Hall Wednesday morning. Judge F. H. Lowe, Chief of Police J. D. Fraser and Lieut. W. J. Royle acted as hosts, and each in turn explained the workings of his department in the administration of municipal affairs.

Invite Clubwoman To Give Patriotic Address on Radio

Patriotism is always stressed in women's club affairs, and Tuesday afternoon clubwomen will be interested in learning that one of their number, Mrs. C. M. Turk, of La Cresenta, has been invited to give her flag address over the KJH broadcasting station at an early date.

Mrs. Turk compiled the data in her address from various well-known sources, moulding it into a comprehensive sketch, that has been well received at school gatherings and before the American Legion.

She will be heard over the radio as one of the features of "National Flag Week," which celebrates Flag Day June 14.

Mrs. Turk is president-elect of the La Cresenta Women's club.

SHOW NOVEL FILM ON GATEWAY BILL

'The Brass Bottle' Presents Magic Lamp Idea In Brilliant Fashion

Harry Myers and Barbara La Marr in "The Brass Bottle," now showing at the Gateway Theatre, provide one of the most novel pictures of the season.

It is a story of the "Aladdin and the Magic Lamp" variety, a brass bottle in this case furnishing the hero with a genie who fulfills his every wish. Those who still believe in "Brownies" and dream of things that could one of the best they have ever never be will vote this picture seen.

Starting tonight, "The White Moth" comes to the Gateway Theatre, featuring Barbara La Marr, heroine of "The Brass Bottle," and Conway Tearle.

Health Ranch Planned By Annette Kellerman

Plans are under way for the establishment of an outdoor woman's club under the supervision of Annette Kellerman, to be located in the Sunland hills, according to announcement made in Glendale. The club, said to be the only one of its kind in the world, will be known as Hidden Rancho, and will be open to members only. Outdoor swimming pools, gymnasiums and athletic equipment will be part of the furnishings, it is said.

A representative of Miss Kellerman is scheduled to appear in Glendale Monday night to address a mass meeting at 113 South Orange street, when detailed plans of the proposed clubhouse and health ranch will be discussed.

SCHOOL GROUNDS ARE BEAUTIFIED BY TREES, GRASS

Landscaping Work Finished; Sprinkling System to Be Used at Night

Landscape gardening has been completed on the new Glendale Union High school grounds, and the beauty of the buildings has been greatly enhanced by the planting of shrubs and the newly-seeded lawn. In accordance with the Spanish style of architecture of the buildings, palms are the predominant plant used by the Pioneer Nursery of Monrovia in laying out the shrubbery.

The spacious lawns to the front and side of the structure are already showing green, and give promise of the beautiful esplanade that will eventually surround the buildings. When the landscape work has matured, it is predicted by many that the Glendale campus will be one of the most beautiful high school campuses in Southern California.

Sprinkling System
The automatic sprinkling system installed on the grounds was put into operation this week. This system is something unique in time when one section has been watered for about three minutes, the controlling device shuts off the supply and turns it on in the next. This rotating process can be continued as long as necessary. It is planned to set this clock so that all sprinkling will be done at night as soon as the new grass becomes heavy.

FIRST FILM SHOW AT HIGH SCHOOL

Feature Picture Exhibited to Students In Assembly
On New Apparatus

The first feature length photograph to be run through the new motion picture apparatus recently installed in the Broadway High school auditorium was presented to a large number of students in a pay assembly yesterday afternoon at the school.

The picture shown was "The Yankee Consul," starring Douglas MacLean. The two standard machines purchased by the student body make it possible to run through a picture of this length without a break between reels.

A. L. Ferguson, vice-principal, states that the assembly yesterday was so well attended that several more will be arranged before the close of the year if the same type of high-class films can be secured. The picture was obtained from a Los Angeles film exchange. An admission price of 10 cents was charged, the profits going into the student body fund.

Daily Greeting To News Readers

He who can praise makes his joy perennial. The particular pleasure passes, but the fountain endures, and will pour forth fresh and sparkling streams through eternity.—James Baldwin Brown.

DISSATISFACTION IN PARADISE

Some people grow greatly excited when an individual or a family who have come to Glendale, or elsewhere in California, to visit or to make their home, say they do not like this locality and go back whence they came.

Los Angeles and the cities adjoining are trying to bring more people from the east, and they are coming by the hundreds and thousands. The wonder is that so large a per cent of them think they have reached paradise. We are so differently constituted that there must be a reason for it when so many have the same ideas and opinions. It is not to be wondered at that a few should feel the call of the old home. There are some who find it difficult to change and others who have the wanderlust and are not satisfied anywhere, and they are not to be blamed.

A farmer from the middle west visited Glendale last winter. His first and last criticism of the country was that he didn't see any cornfields. His narrow outlook was the cause of his dissatisfaction. He had never before seen beyond a field of corn. Now, acre after acre of waving green corn is a beautiful and a wonderful sight, but I doubt if he ever saw the beauty in his own fields. All he saw was the money his crop represented, and as he had never dealt in anything but corn and hogs he could see no good in California.

It is not surprising that some do not like it here, and it is right that they should go back. In fact, they should be helped to get back, if necessary. There are knockers everywhere, but if a fund could be maintained to deport those who are dissatisfied the sound of the hammer would grow very faint. There is no reason why those who do not like it here should be bitter in their denunciation of those of us who do, nor should they misrepresent conditions here.

To one visitor like the above there are thousands like the woman tourist who said, the other day, "Oh, I wish I could live here. It is just like paradise. I should like to die here, too, because they could throw me out anywhere and flowers would grow on my grave."

COURTESY IN BUSINESS

When employees, managers and proprietors of business concern treat patrons as though they were inferiors seeking favors of superiors, they only prove to the world that they have not learned the rudiments of the business in which they are engaged, much less knowing anything of the amenities of life.

It is a real accomplishment for an employee to be courteous to a patron and yet stop short of making the transaction a social affair. But it is better to err on the side of giving the patron too much time and attention, in most cases.

A short time ago a woman went into the office of a large concern and spent two minutes transacting certain business. As she folded her receipt she asked a question about a mutual acquaintance of the young lady who had waited upon her. The girl turned and walked back to her desk, answering as she went, her back to the patron. No doubt, she had her mind on her work and had no intention of dismissing the patron so summarily, but the other looked at the matter this way: "They had my money and that was all they wanted of me." And then she told, gleefully, how she had unexpectedly had business of the same nature again and had taken it to another company. It is foolish to be so sensitive, but many people are that way.

The other day a woman timidly asked the clerk in a meat shop a question about a certain cut of meat. From the scornful, sneering look he gave her and the discourteous way he answered one would have thought him a superior being.

Especially do employees of big corporations often get the idea that the public is made up of sticks and stones. After all, in any business, it is the buying public who is to be considered and it behooves the business man and his employees to treat patrons with common courtesy, at least.

GREET YOUR INVITED GUESTS

Smile! Yes, do be pleasant! Make yourself agreeable. There are more than ten thousand (10,000, count 'em) tourists arriving in the southland this week. They are coming by the trainload, the boatload and many motor cars. They are our invited guests, remember. They are your friends from "back east." They are here to enjoy themselves. Let it be so.

This is the playground, the happyland, the great out west. This is the land where dreams come true. This is the nearest approach to heaven humans can hope for. And only your actions will make it "just as advertised."

Extend the welcome, Make it hearty. Give these newcomers the hand of friendship. Forget business for a few moments and take them out in your car, or have them home for dinner. See that they are comfortably located.

And don't try to sell them something, anything for that matter. Let them first be "sold" on Southern California. Let them appreciate what we have. Don't do nothing else but—SMILE!

SHOULD PREJUDICE JURORS

The methods of attorneys who try murder cases are often disgusting, but making capital of the presence and the personality of an innocent boy in the court room where his mother is being tried for murder is nothing short of criminal. The juvenile court ought to have jurisdiction, if it has not, over such a case. It would seem that keeping a boy in such an environment for its effect upon the jurors would have an effect opposite to the one intended. It would prejudice almost any juror against the defendant and her attorney.

The editorial policies of newspapers, including chain papers, are controlled by the owners. A newspaper owner, then, often finds it expedient to stand immovably for a certain policy in the Bunkville Standard and to bitterly oppose the same thing in the Bulltown Gazette. Bunkville people rarely see the Bulltown paper and vice versa, so he gets away with it.

There is no shortage of presidential timber, but both parties are lacking plans for their platforms. One of the candidates has taken to the tall timber and the others are busy building their fences.

When the curtain drops on the scene of life we shall be remembered by service rendered rather than by possessions acquired.

Too many of us work hard for the things that do not endure and pay little attention to the things that are eternal.

Some people can tell you what to do much easier than they can tell you how to do it.

EVERYBODY'S GETTING TIRED OF THE "OLD DUFFER"!

Takigana

By DR. FRANK CRANE

When the Japanese exclusion bill was reported to the minister at Tokio he is alleged to have said: "Takigana."

Which means, "I should worry." Most things do not amount to much and this matter of the Japanese exclusion is one of them. The Senate and House of Representatives have been at great pains to wound the sensibilities and hurt the feelings of a powerful and friendly people.

A few weeks ago we asked for five million dollars to help them in their calamity when they had a bad earthquake.

We have spoiled the effect of this good action, for we got eleven million through the Red Cross which has been sent them, because we were browbeaten by the race haters of California.

We had a working agreement which was, in all respects, satisfactory. We chose to violate that working agreement, and to break our pledge with a nation that has always kept its word, just to show that we are not bossed by foreigners.

As a matter of fact, any nation can do as it pleases in regard to its own immigration problems.

But it is one thing to do as we please with dignity and firmness and quite another thing to make happy the people unto which we do it.

There are two causes of war. One is the superiority complex and the other is fear.

If we ever get to the point where we realize that we are superior in blood and breeding to all other people, let the world beware. Or, should we ever reach the point where we fear any other people, let them equally beware.

War comes from very little causes on the surface. Anything will do as a pretext. The mass of the German people still believe they were innocent and that the French and others were aggressors. This complex of fear and racial superiority is being carefully cultivated by the French in their dealings with Germany and contains the seed of the next war, if there is any, just as soon as Germany is ready.

A war between the Japanese nation and the United States of America is unthinkable. All wars are unthinkable until they occur.

California is doing its best to sow the seed of another war on the part of the United States.

And California has able allies in the present House and Senate.

The leaders of the Japanese nation are fortunately gentlemen and treat the whole matter with a contempt which the issue merits. But, unfortunately, neither the Japanese people nor the people of the United States are all gentlemen.

There are only too many there as well as here who consider the question as one which must eventually be settled by force and arms.

In this instance it is a good thing to imitate the leaders of the Japanese and to dismiss the whole question with the phrase, "Takigana"—I should worry.

SOMETHING CONSTRUCTIVE

(From New York Times)

President Coolidge has taken a step which ought to dissipate a fear frequently expressed regarding the naval oil reserves. It is that by the time Congress and the courts have got through with the oil leases no oil will be left. Experts in the industry have felt that this danger exists, and it is one to which the general board of the navy is not indifferent. No one can have waded through the mass of conflicting testimony by geologists, naval officers and practical oil men without coming to the conclusion that the whole problem needs to be restudied and a wise and far-sighted policy worked out for the government to pursue. These ends the president hopes to attain by appointing a commission to investigate the entire matter thoroughly and to report what the United States ought to do in order to make sure of an adequate supply of fuel oil for the navy, both for the permanent needs and for the emergency of a possible war.

As members of the commission, Mr. Coolidge has named the director of the geological survey, George Otis Smith; Admiral Jones, now commander-in-chief of the United States fleet, and A. D. Bush of the California bureau of mineralogy. They are to investigate the question how much of the oil in the existing naval reserves can be conserved underground, and how much of it, if it is to be saved at all, must at once be got out and put in storage. These disputed points have been endlessly discussed before the Senate committee. Now they will be passed upon by highly competent experts. Furthermore, the commission will be expected to report on ways and means of better defining the boundaries of the naval oil reserves and of providing new ones in Alaska and elsewhere. With the best intentions in the world, the oil lands previously set aside by the government were marked off in a somewhat inaccurate manner, due to lack of knowledge concerning the actual extent of the oil pools under the ground. Much more is known about the subject today, and it may be expected that we shall have a much sounder basis upon which to build after the president's commission has completed the inquiries and made its report.

It certainly is high time something were done to make sure of a naval oil supply in the future. We have thus far had an oversupply of talk and wrangling and recrimination, but fuel of that kind, even when mixed with an abundance of super-heated air, cannot be burned in a battleship.

SUPREME COURT MAJORITIES

(From Santa Ana Register)

The annual convention of the United States Chamber of Commerce condemns the proposal to require more than a mere majority of the Supreme court to declare acts of Congress unconstitutional.

This is a natural position for the Chamber to take. Yet it seems doubtful whether it represents a careful and dispassionate view of the situation.

Conservatives—and Americans are normally conservative—do not like to tamper with such a great, vital and highly respected branch of government as the Supreme court, lest the authority of that body be weakened and the foundations of government shaken. Yet, as matters stand, the authority of the Supreme court has been weakened by the very fact that its numerous decisions by a mere five-to-four vote, and its occasional reversal of previous close decisions, have somewhat weakened confidence in it.

A public which is accustomed to regarding the unanimous agreement of twelve men as necessary for a jury verdict naturally comes to have less absolute faith in a judicial decision which four judges out of nine say is bad law. Many perfectly respectable people find nothing really "radical" in suggesting that it would provide public confidence in the court and make our governmental system more stable, if a big enough majority were required—such as six or seven judges out of nine—to guard against the insinuations of chance or prejudice which always follow close decisions, especially in constitutional matters involving human rights.

There may be a third party, but at least there will be no 4d party. —Chicago Herald Examiner.

Voters next fall probably will vote not for, but against, as usual. —Rockford Star.

So live, brother, that if ever you have to be pulled out from underneath your car, the reporters will not have to write, "There was an odor of liquor about the wreck." —Decatur Herald.

Worth While Verse

"LET ME ENJOY"

Let me enjoy the earth no less Because the all-enacting Might
That fashioned forth its loveliness
Had other aims than my delight.

About my path there flits a Fair,
Who throws me not a word or sign;
I will find charm in her uncare,
And laud those lips not meant for mine.

From manuscripts of moving song
Inspired by scenes and souls unknown,
I'll pour out raptures that belong
To others, as they were my own.

Perhaps some day, toward Paradise
And all its bliss—if such should be—
I shall lift glad, afar-off eyes,
Though it contain no place for me.

—Thomas Hardy.

The People —of— Anytown

Character Sketches

When Arnold Shelby, on two or three occasions, had a poem published in The Golden Fleece, one of the most widely-read magazines of the day, Anytown was proud as a peacock and stirred to the depths. Of course, our editor, Robert Harvey, had real literary ability, but we were accustomed to read his efforts every week in The Anytown Gazette, and familiarly sometimes breeds contempt. Mrs. Sholes had, at one time, planned to be an author, but she had given it up, and we had never seen any of her writing in print outside of The Gazette. She was a number of other clubwomen had the reputation of writing very good papers, and others of us were not without discrimination in literature, but Arnold Shelby was the first person in Anytown to have anything published in a magazine. I think every family in town had copies of The Golden Fleece, containing Arnold's poetry, lying on the parlor table or the whatnot, to show to out-of-town friends, or to refer to when there was a discussion as to whether Arnold's poem, "To the Star-Eyed Queen," alluded to Natalie Powers or Helen of Troy. It was so adroitly worded that either may have been intended, and Anytown took sides.

It must be confessed that, while we were proud of Arnold's accomplishments and made a lion of him on every possible occasion, we thought him a little queer. His father had died and left him comfortably fixed, so he could afford to be a poet. Nature gave him a high forehead and beautiful eyes, but he adopted the long hair, the flowing tie and the vacant expression. Arnold usually recognized us on the street with a distant bow, but he always seemed so preoccupied that we never stopped him or engaged him in conversation, fearing to interrupt the evolution of a poetic masterpiece.

For a long time Arnold was quite attentive to Natalie Powers, and he became more human in his relationship with the rest of us while he was "courting" her. Natalie was not one who "looked up" to Arnold Shelby. She saw him for what he was, and she was too energetic, too much of a "doer" herself, to have any exaggerated respect for an idler. She made good use of Arnold in our home talent entertainments, but she had no use for him as a husband. Sophronia Watts adored Arnold as a poet, and she did not fear to interrupt the workings of his great intellect by according him the respect of a good listener on the street. But her most alluring smiles and wiles were not sufficient to make him commit himself to an appointment with her.

Well, it is no mean accomplishment to be able to write a poem, and it is still more of a feat to get one published, so why shouldn't we have felt that Arnold Shelby had conferred distinction on Anytown?

THE CASE OF JENNIE BRICE

By MARY ROBERTS RINEHART

Copyright, 1924, by The McClure Newspaper Syndicate

The story so far:
Mrs. Pitman, who tells the story, ran away from home to marry, and was never reconciled to her old Pittsburgh family, although she returned to her home town to live after she became a widow. She kept boarders in what was then lower Allegheny, where, because there were floods every year, rents were cheap. One March there was an unusually high flood. Miss Jennie Brice, as she was known on the stage, was having an unusually quarrelsome time with her husband, Mr. Ladley. Mrs. Pitman overheard them talking with a man, and Miss Brice said, "That's all very well, but what about that prying she-devil that runs the house?" That night the water rose high, and in the middle of the night another boarder, Mr. Reynolds, woke Mrs. Pitman to say somebody had just rowed away in the boat she had tied to the stairs in the lower hall. Mrs. Pitman later saw Mr. Ladley returning. He said he had been out for medicine for his wife.

TODAY'S INSTALMENT IV—A FLOATING SLIPPER

He went back and slammed his door, and I made his coffee. I steeped a cup of tea for Mrs. Ladley at the same time. He opened the door just wide enough for the tray, and took it without so much as a "thank you." He had a cigarette in his mouth as usual, and I could see a fire in the grate and smell something like scorching.

"I hope Mrs. Ladley is better," I said, getting my foot in the crack of the door, so he could not quite close it. It smelled to me as if he had accidentally set fire to something with his cigarette, and I tried to see into the room.

"What about Mrs. Ladley?" he snapped. "You said she was ill last night?" "Oh, yes! Well, she wasn't very sick. She's better."

"Shall I bring her some tea?" "Take your foot away!" he ordered. "No. She doesn't want tea. She's not here."

"Good heavens!" he snarled. "Is her going away anything to make such a fuss about? The Lord knows I'd be glad to get out of this infernal pig-wallow myself."

"If you mean my house—" I began. But he had pulled himself together and was more polite when he answered. "I mean the neighborhood. Your house is all that could be desired for the money. If we do not have linen sheets and double cream we are paying muslin and milk prices."

Either my nose was growing accustomed to the odor, or it was dying away; I took my foot away from the door. "When did Mrs. Ladley leave?" I asked.

"This morning, very early. I rowed her to Federal street."

"You couldn't have had much sleep," I said dryly. For he showed dark rings around his eyes, which were red, and his lips looked dry and cracked.

"She's not in the piece this week at the theatre," he said licking his lips and looking past me, not at me. "She'll be back by Saturday."

I did not believe him. I do not think he imagined that I did. He shut the door in my face, and it caught poor Peter by the nose. The dog ran off howling, but although Mr. Ladley had been as fond of the animal as it was in his nature to be fond of anything, he paid no attention. As I started down the hall after him, I saw what Peter had been carrying—a slipper of Mrs. Ladley's. It was soaked with water; evidently Peter had found it floating at the foot of the stairs.

Although the idea of murder had not entered my head at that time, the slipper gave me a turn. I picked it up and looked at it. A black one with a beaded toe, short in the vamp and high-heeled, the sort most actresses wear. Then I went back and knocked at the door of the front room again.

"What the devil do you want now?" he called from beyond the door.

"Here's a slipper of Mrs. Ladley's," I said. "Peter found it floating in the lower hall."

He opened the door wide, and let me in. The room was in tolerable order, much better than when Mrs. Ladley was about. He looked at the slipper, but did not touch it. "I don't think that is hers," he said.

"I've seen her wear it a hundred times."

"Well, she'll never wear it again." And then, seeing me stare, he added: "It's ruined with the water. Throw it out. And, by the way, I'm sorry, but I set fire to one of the pillow-slippers—dropped asleep, and my cigarette did the rest. I went over and looked at it."

"The pillow will have to be paid for, too, Mr. Ladley," I said. "And there's a sign nailed on the door that forbids smoking in bed. If you are going to set fire to things, I shall have to charge extra."

"Really!" he jeered, looking at me with his cold fishy eyes. "Is there any sign on the door saying that boarders are charged extra for seven feet of filthy river in the bedrooms?"

I was never a match for him, and I make it a principle never to bandy words with my boarders. I took the pillow and the slipper and went out. The telephone was ringing on the stair landing. It was the theatre, asking for Miss Brice.

"She has gone away," I said.

"What do you mean? Moved away?"

"Gone for a few days' vacation," replied. "She didn't play this week, is she?"

"Wait a moment," said the voice. There was a hum of conversation from the other end, and then another man came to the telephone.

"Can you find out where Miss Brice has gone?"

"I'll see."

I went to Ladley's door and knocked. Mr. Ladley answered from just beyond.

"The theatre is asking where Mrs. Ladley is."

"Tell them I don't know," he snarled, and shut the door. I took his message to the telephone.

Whoever it was swore and hung up the receiver.

All the morning I was uneasy—I hardly knew why. Peter felt it as I did. There was no sound from the Ladleys' room, and the lapping water on the stairs and house was quiet, except for the police patrol being back and forth.

At 11 o'clock a boy in the neighborhood, paddling on a raft, fell into the water and was drowned. I watched the police boat go past, carrying his little cold body, and after that I was good for nothing. I went and sat with Peter on the stairs. The dog's conduct had been strange all morning. He had sat just above the water, looking at it and whimpering. Perhaps he was expecting another kitten or—

MURPHY TENT ON
NO. BRAND NOW

No Break in Week's Program as Company Moves to New Location

Murphy's Comedians moved their tent today to the corner of North Brand boulevard and Stocker street, Casa Verdugo, and will open at 8:15 o'clock tonight with "Nothing But the Truth," the farce-comedy with which they have been scoring such a hit.

The doors will open at 7:15 o'clock, states J. A. Menard, one of the owners. Popular prices and a good show combine to give Murphy's Comedians a great deal of patronage from Glendale and surrounding points and the old rule of "first come, first serve," still applies.

The plot of "Nothing But the Truth" concerns the efforts of a clubman to win a wager by adhering to the facts. The result is disastrous to certain feminine members of the set, and the clubman is accordingly kidnapped. How he escapes and the way the play ends is what makes "Nothing But the Truth" one of the best American light comedies.

BOND COMMITTEE WILL REPORT ON PROPOSED ISSUES

Every Civic Organization To Be Represented on Special Group

Approving a suggestion made by V. E. Stone, city manager, this morning, Councilman C. E. Kimlin moved that a "special bond committee," to consist of one representative from every organization in town be appointed to "inquire into and report back to the council" the needs of the city which would necessarily be covered by a bond issue. The motion was seconded by Councilman Asa Hall and carried unanimously.

Previously an effort had been made to include an amount said to be $60,000 for the fire department in the library bond issue, but this had lost, three to two.

Committee's Duty
The committee, when organized, will be addressed by the city manager and H. C. Saulsbery, city controller, and then will have authority to look into any proposed addition to the city hall, and additions to the fire fighting or police equipment.

The recommendation of such a committee, the council believes, would have great weight with the voters of the city, and any suggestions they might make would be of great help to the council in determining their future policy.

Ask New Ruling
Neighborhood dissension over the classification of property at Doran and Chester streets was aired for the third time before the Council, with the result that it was referred back again to the City Planning commission for recommendation.

H. S. Burn, John R. Grey and Eugene J. Wix, attorneys for Ben Holmberg, spoke on the subject, and occupied one hour of the Council's time. The planning commission has twice recommended that the property be retained as a first class residential district. Mr. Holmberg has petitioned that it be removed from this classification, and some of the adjoining property holders are opposed to it.

Bids for electric light standards and equipment; the improvement of Gardfield avenue and streets in Verdugo Woodlands north of Opechee way and east of Canada boulevard were opened and referred to the department chiefs for checking and report.

Street Improvements
The width of Hill drive, in Sycamore canyon came up for discussion, without any definite action being taken. It is probable from the sentiment expressed by the Council, and endorsed by the city manager, that condemnation proceedings to widen this thoroughfare will be undertaken shortly.

The continued hearing on the proposed widening and opening of Mariposa was postponed until June 26.

Petitions to improve Cypress avenue from Glendale avenue east with paving and street lights were received, and the city attorney and city engineer ordered to draft the necessary proceedings.

RADIO PICTURES IN NEAR FUTURE, SCIENTISTS SAY

Telephone's Success Can Be Duplicated in Ether, Engineers Claim

By ROBERT T. SMALL, Special Correspondent of The Glendale Evening News, Copyright 1924 NEW YORK, May 29.—Having "telephoned" pictures of President Coolidge and others from Cleveland to New York, electrical engineers are agreed today that pictures by radio will be a development of the very near future.

It is now an established principle that whatever can be accomplished in the way of wire transmission can also be achieved by using the ether as the means of communication. Wires for the moment are under better control and must be relied upon to a good extent. Almost daily strides, however, are being made in the conquest of the air and there no longer is any mere theory as to what the ether may be made to do. The question of instruments necessary to transmit and receive the various electrical impulses through space.

Air Can Be Tamed

The sending of photographs and news pictures by wire requires a delicate graduating of electrical impulses. This selectivity, or refinement of electrical processes, is not as yet possible with the ether, for the matter of interference in the air has yet to be worked out. Copper wires give complete control; the air is as yet an unruly creature. It can be tamed, however, and the matter of doing away with interference can become an accomplished fact as soon as a more is learned of the manufacture of instruments of greater selectivity. The possibilities of the ether are as limitless as the air itself. Man simply has to learn to harness the will forces which are loose.

Static, the terror of many a radio receiver, remains to be conquered and until it is the delicate process of picture sending must remain within the realm of copper wires where this "howling in the wilderness" has no part.

The process of telephoning pictures is to the layman, a very simple one. The visible part of the operation is easily understood. But the invisible part is as strange to the unscientific onlooker as the mysteries of radio itself. Many a radio fan knows that if he turns certain knobs to certain points he will bring into his home, music and speeches but just why or how this seeming miracle is accomplished nine-tenths of the radio users of America never will know and never will be understood.

Method Explained

Pictures sent by wire are traced upon a photographic film mounted upon a cylinder. The tracing is done by a pencil of brilliant light. The completed photograph is a series of fine lines by this light. The shadings of the lines which trace the picture are accomplished by varying the intensity of the light. When it glows at its brightest, it cuts its way through the film so that the lines when developed, are intense black. When some of the illuminative power is shut off the lines are gray. When the lights glow but faintly no impression is made upon the film and thus the white spaces in the completed picture are accounted for.

In watching the recording machine at work the analogy which comes to the layman's mind is that of the dictaphone machine where a person dictating through a tube records his words on a revolving wax cylinder which moves

MEMORIAL DAY

Our Nation's Yesterdays

It has been said that a nation, like an individual, is the sum total of its yesterdays. On Memorial Day we turn from the busy present and dwell on our nation's yesterdays of struggle, sacrifice and sorrow. Time has bound up broken bodies and aching hearts, and given us the proud and precious tradition of national ideals gloriously upheld. May we always be worthy of the noble heritage and hold in honor the memory of those who bequeathed it.

Webb's Brand at Wilson

along a fraction of an inch with every revolution.

The photographic negative, mounted upon a small cylinder, is carried along in precisely the same manner and the pencil of light traces its varying lines. The covering of a 5 by 7 inch negative with these lines requires about five minutes.

Process Reversed

At the sending end of the line, the process is somewhat reversed. There, the positive film also is mounted on a cylinder and a pencil of light shining through this positive acts upon delicate transmitting instruments which control the intensity of the recording light at the receiving end of the line. The processes involved in this transmission are somewhat akin to radio in that vacuum tubes and other wireless instruments are employed.

While the actual operation of the picture sending and receiving devices seems a simple thing, back of its accomplishment lie years upon years of research and scientific work. The instruments built by the American Telephone and Telegraph Company are the work of scores of engineers, who have given their time and their brains to the task. The process is no great "discovery." It has been merely the tedious application of well known principles.

No particular thought has been given as yet to the commercial possibilities of picture sending by wire. For several years at least, it will be a novelty rather than a utility.

BOND POSTED TO MAINTAIN PAVING

Glendale Avenue Contract Is Protected, Says Ferry To Association

The maintenance bond for the paving on Glendale avenue has been properly executed and posted, Peter L. Ferry, contractor, told members of the Glendale Advancement association at a meeting held today noon at the Harriett Mae Tea room. The bond is large enough to assure the complete relaying of the entire paving in the event it does not prove satisfactory within five years, Mr. Ferry said.

Prior to Mr. Ferry's statement regarding the bond, it was announced that a number of property owners on Glendale avenue met Monday night and decided to see legal talent in order to protect the interests of the owners. Another meeting of a special committee will be held in the near future and a report along this line follow, it was said.

Secretary Herman Nelson was instructed to write to all service clubs and organizations in the city, asking them to co-operate in the clean-up week program sponsored by the Advancement association.

President C. W. Ingledue presided at the meeting.

Sprinkler System Showers Water on Students and Cars

People sitting in cars parked in front of the Glendale High school buildings were the ungrateful recipients of free shower baths yesterday afternoon, when the newly installed automatic sprinkling system went into action with no advance warning.

There were screams aplenty and much scurrying about as the occupants hurried their cars out of the danger zones. Several fresh summer dresses and a couple of palm beach suits came out of the encounter in a rather bedraggled condition, but otherwise there were no casualties.

The parkway sprinklers, which are run by clockwork, throw water well out over the curbing and at just the right angle to enter machines standing along the curb. Several of the cars became somewhat water-logged before the owners discovered what was happening.

GOMPERS GIVES WARNING

The warning was signed by Samuel Gompers.

ROTARIANS HEAR CONCRETE FACTS

Cement Industry's Magnitude Explained by Expert At Weekly Lunch

Glendale Rotarians at their luncheon this afternoon learned of the magnitude of the Portland cement industry, being addressed by Harley Wadsworth, who was introduced by George H. Bentley of the Bentley Lumber company, at the request of J. Herbert Smith, president of the club.

Mr. Wadsworth said that his subject, concretely speaking, was nothing more than fine gray powder mixed with sand and water, forming artificial stone, which is principally used for paving, also hollow concrete building tile.

More than 700,000,000 hollow concrete building units were used last year which was equivalent to more than half of the brick output in the same period, the speaker related, in showing the tremendous growth of the business.

Howard "Breezy" Elliott, president of the Glendale Union High school student body, was initiated as a junior member of the Rotary club, being introduced by Principal George U. Moyses.

"Breezy" pledged the support of the high school boys in aiding the Rotarians' work among them.

A special meeting of the club has been called for Monday night at 7 p. m. in the Harvard High school.

Guests at Lunch
Visiting Rotarians included David Unruh of Monrovia; Frank Mason of Pasadena; Frank Warden of Minneapolis; Frank B. Ware of Corona and Andrew Fillbach of Burbank.

Guests of the club included Edwin C. Carter, newly appointed manager of Pendroy's department store; Win Smith, a cartoonist; W. R. Mason and Jack Campbell of Los Angeles; Charles W. Kimball of Parsons, Kan., and others already mentioned.

David Unruh of Monrovia was in Glendale this afternoon arranging for a concert to be given Sunday afternoon at the First Methodist church at 3:30 o'clock by the Monrovia Festival chorus and the Pasadena Chimes chorus, comprising 125 voices. He states that the program is "worthy of being heard."

FREEDOM GIVEN YOUNG HEIRESS STIRS NEW YORK

Police Arrest Daughter of Rockefeller, Jr., But Do Not Prosecute

By ROBERT T. SMALL,
Special Correspondent of The Glendale Evening News, Copyright 1924.

NEW YORK, May 29.—Something closely akin to real class hatred has been engendered among a large part of New York's population over the exceptional favors shown to the heiress daughter, 21-year-old daughter, of John R. Rockefeller, Jr., when she was twice arrested on Riverside Drive for speeding in her automobile.

This hatred is reflected in letters which have reached Mayor Hylan and other officials literally by the hundreds. For the most part the letters contain bitterly cynical remarks about the harsh treatment meted out to the poor man or woman while the granddaughter of the oil king, who for long was regarded as the richest man in all the world, is permitted to go scot free and virtually with the apologies of the court and the police for ever having dared to hale her within hearing distance of a temple of supposed justice.

The professional chauffeurs of the city are the worst of the protesters. They have been getting rather much of a raw deal lately by being pulled up for the slightest infractions of the traffic rules and once in the traffic court no excuse is accepted and no leniency shown for a first offense. These men who earn their living by driving are amazed at the conduct to the court officials in Miss Rockefeller's case, for not only were her arrests hushed up, but the papers were removed from the usual files and every effort made to shield the pretty young heiress of the Standard Oil millions from the slightest publicity.

Now Gross Blunders
Apparently however, the kindness shown to Miss Rockefeller have turned out to be gross blunders. All of the intended good counsel in the case has proved extremely ill-advised. If Miss Rockefeller had been fined for her two offenses against the laws, instead of having sentence suspended after she had entered a plea of guilty to each offense, the incidents would have flared up for a day in the public mind and been forgotten.

There would have been a feeling of satisfaction among the classes of the people that there was a case of one of the very richest young women in the world being treated exactly like any other person picked up by the motorcycle squad. Miss Rockefeller must have received what she considered undesirable publicity, but in the end she would have been a heroine among her friends and

ARTIST FEATURES AMERICAN MUSIC

Ten of MacDowell's Songs
Are Included In Program
At Club Meeting

LA CRESCENTA, May 29.—The mid-month session of the Woman's club was held yesterday under the auspices of the drama and music sections.

Mrs. Alma D'Harcourt, of Los Angeles and New York, gave a complete MacDowell program, singing ten of the fifteen songs by this noted American composer. Mrs. R. T. MacDonald, who accompanied Mrs. D'Harcourt, gave a short talk on the life and work of Edward MacDowell. Mrs. MacDonald will, as chairman of the music section, conduct a series of studies on American composers for members of this section.

Mrs. Hansen, as chairman of the drama section, introduced Mrs. Mary B. Darrow, who gave a group of four impromptu character studies.

Annual Luncheon
The president, Mrs. C. W. Haskins, notified all members of the annual club luncheon to be given Monday at the Oakmont Country club. All reservations must be in by Saturday night. Mrs. Rose Nettleton has charge of this matter and reservations can only be made through her.

Mrs. Mary B. Darrow was chosen as delegate to the Biennial of the General Federation of Women's clubs, to represent La Crescenta.

After the program tea and waters were served by the following hostesses: Mrs. G. Cochran and Mrs. Merwin, Mrs. Tillinghast and Mrs. F. Newton at the tea urns.

On account of Memorial Day being observed as a legal holiday the Los Angeles County free library will not be open on that date, but will open on Saturday from 3 to 5 p. m. and from 7 to 9 p. m.

a shining example of even handed justice to all the city.
As it is, the Standard Oil heiress is receiving far greater publicity than even the worst aspects of her case seem to deserve and her treatment at the hands of the police and the city magistrates is being made a cause celebre of which the last will not be heard for many a long moon. Miss Rockefeller had no great desire to escape being fined. Certainly not from a strictly monetary point of view. She was misled into the belief that she might escape publicity. Instead she has been projected into the spotlight of pitiless publicity.

Mayor On Case
Her treatment is being officially investigated by the city. Mayor Hylan was bound, under such a move in view of the temper of the letters he received. He sought to scotch a further display of feeling by endeavoring to show that no matter how bewildered one city magistrate and a few police officials may have become when they discovered they had a Rockefeller in the meshes of the law, the scheme of justice in the city at large is sound and beyond reproach.

It was indicated today that Miss Rockefeller will be asked to appear at the city's investigation. The papers in her case, discovered after an official search show, on their face that the heiress actually appeared in court and answered various questions as to her pedigree. Some court attendants say she did nothing of the sort. Miss Rockefeller cannot be forced to appear as a witness at the investigation, but efforts will be made to persuade her to do so. Furthermore an effort will be made to fix some blame in the handling of her case.

Hits Fast Pace
Miss Rockefeller's first offense was to speed 35 miles an hour on the drive. The second time she was picked up the speedometer reading was 29 miles an hour. The legal limit is 15.

In one of the papers in her case where she was asked if she could state any reason in exculpation of her offense, Miss Rockefeller is said to have started to write "I am"—and then thinking better of it, scratched a pen through the words and made no answer at all.

"Economy with a big 'E' was demonstrated by the Overland and Willys-Knight cars entered this year in the eighth Los Angeles-Camp Yosemite Economy run, by Willys-Overland dealers. Using only 13 5-8 gallons of gasoline, no oil, and 14 pints of water, the model 92 Overland, driven by Joe Bozzani, won the sweepstakes cup. It averaged 29.35 miles to the gallon of gasoline. This is the third sweepstakes victory won by an Overland car," says B. W. Sloan, of Smith-Sloan, Inc., 228 South Brand boulevard, local dealer.

The total weight of the winning Overland was 3320 pounds, exceeded by only eight other competing cars, which demonstrates its ability to carry weight and still operate economically.

The few difficulties under which both pilots and cars worked during the run were intensified by hot weather. The first day of the run through the San Joaquin Valley was the hottest ever recorded so early in May by the weather bureau. The thermometer registered 102 degrees at mid-day at several points in the territory surrounding Bakersfield and Fresno.

In order to make the run a test that any owner could approximate by using strictly economical methods the usual route was changed and de-clutching and coasting were strictly forbidden. Every contesting car had to be kept in gear and the engine kept running while travelling. Only 50 feet leeway was allowed for coasting to a stop.

SHOWS PICTURES OF HAWAIIAN LIFE

Island Educator Has Movie Films at Lecture In Crescenta School

LA CRESCENTA, May 29.—Professor F. E. Skinner and his wife, who have lived in Honolulu for five years, gave a most interesting moving picture show and lecture on the main points of the Hawaiian islands at the La Crescenta school. Mr. Skinner, who was principal of the Honokau Junior High school, made a hit with the kiddies by allowing them to ask any questions on the different pictures shown.

Mrs. Skinner was instructor in the Y. W. C. A. educational department, while Mr. Skinner had charge of the gymnasium as physical director. They left yesterday to go to Yellowstone park, then on to Seattle by auto, and they are making a tour of the country in this manner.

In Natural Colors
Probably the most interesting to the kiddies was that of the native boys shinning up the coconut palms. The pictures were beautifully colored in the natural tints, being the work of a Chinese woman who is a native of the islands and knows the true colors of the foliage, flowers and houses.

Mr. and Mrs. Skinner gave this entertainment to the school children and Parent-Teacher association members for the small admission of 10 cents, and were brought here through their friendship for Mr. Blanford, with whom Mr. Skinner went to school in Los Angeles.

Mrs. MacDowell of East Prospect street is entertaining her sister, Mrs. Amanda Smith of Fremont, Neb., as her house guest. Mrs. Smith expects to be here indefinitely.

RULINGS AFFECT CHILDREN, ALIENS

Physical Tests for Students Upheld; Jap Freed In Land Law Case

By HARRY NORTHRUP
By Southland News Service.

EL CENTRO, May 29.—Two judges here yesterday handed down decisions of moment to the people of California. One had to do with the alien land laws, the other with physical examination of school children.

In the latter instance Judge Franklin J. Cole dismissed mandamus proceedings to compel the El Centro school board to admit pupils into schools, holding that the school board acted in good faith and to the best of its ability in refusing admittance to schools of pupils who refused to submit to physical examination.

That ruling, no doubt, will create quite a stir in certain circles, but more interest will attach to the following, in view of the present Japanese crisis:
Ruling on Aliens
Judge M. W. Conkling released K. Nogi on a writ of habeas corpus Wednesday afternoon in an instance where Nogi was charged with violating the alien land law, as amended. The judge further enjoined the attorney general and the district attorney from taking any action against Hakam Singh and George Carter on signing a cropping contract which provides for a stated salary per month with a bonus, or share of the crop, for faithful service.

This decision will affect at least 1000 Japanese and Hindu ranchers and keep in cultivation by alien labor approximately 40,000 acres of valley vegetable lands, it is reported here.

Sierra Madre Zone Laws Are Attacked

LOS ANGELES, May 29.—Attacking the zoning ordinance of the city of Sierra Madre as "unreasonable, invalid, unconstitutional and discriminatory," petition for an injunction against the city trustees and city marshal was asked by the Mountain Glenn Healthatorium.

Defendants include S. M. Kariakof, J. D. Sparks, E. H. Porter, E. E. Bacon and Earl D. Topping, as trustees, and A. M. Udell, city marshal.

The ordinance, passed June 28, 1923, provides that all health resorts and sanitariums must be located within a 350-acre tract set forth as zone B. Its provisions also affect all institutions established before the passage of the act.

The Healthatorium, according to the petition, has been located on Churchill road, a mile from the center of the city, for nearly five years. The property in zone B, the plaintiff holds, is unfit for either business or hospital purposes, while the climate at its present site is ideally fitted for its purposes.

BE CAREFUL IN FOREST, IS PLEA

Warn Eastern Motorists of Fire Dangers Following Rainless Season

Eastern motorists who are beginning to invade this section by thousands should be warned personally against carelessness with fire in the national forests, according to announcement by the touring bureau of the Automobile Club of Southern California. It is pointed out that while residents of this section are familiar with conditions and know that the long, dry season makes extra precautions necessary, the stranger does not realize the danger of leaving camp fires burning and carelessly throwing away lighted matches or burning cigarettes. "One tree will make a million matches—one match will destroy a million trees," is the lesson that should be impressed on all motorists entering the national forests and other sections where the dry undergrowth readily ignites and quickly gets beyond control. This situation entails constant thoughtfulness and every resident motorist is urged to impress personally the lesson upon visitors from other sections.

There are nearly 20,000,000 acres in the nineteen national forests of California, the scenic beauties of which are open to the public. The only provision that Uncle Sam makes as host is that the visitors be extremely careful with their camp fires and matches, and that they refrain from polluting streams and scattering rubbish.

Use Extra Rangers
Last year more than 4,000,000 persons entered the national forests of California and 85 per cent of these used their own automobiles for conveyance.

During the rainless season, additional rangers are placed in the forests. Arship patrols are maintained; radio broadcasting is used, a most elaborate system of protection of trees and visitors is placed in effect.

Every possible safeguard will be employed this year, as it is expected that at least 5,000,000 persons will accept Uncle Sam's invitation to enjoy recreation periods in his beautiful and primeval estates.

One Chippewa Indian medicine song is as positive and energetic as "Onward Christian Soldiers," says an investigator.

Conquers Reservoir Hill

Picture shows the CHRYSLER SIX battling its way up the steep grade of Reservoir Hill along the loose surfaced fire-break that affords the only route to the summit. The 4-wheel brakes came in useful coming down again.

One of the hills in this region that stands as a perpetual challenge to ambitious motorists, and especially to those dealers who seek to establish the supremacy of their cars over those of other agents, is Reservoir hill, that takes its name from the fact that the reservoir that furnishes water to Eagle Rock lies on the top of it. Reservoir Hill, for about 600 feet, rises at an estimated grade of 40 per cent, and it has defied many cars that sought to conquer it. But it was subdued twice in the last week, and both times by a Chrysler Six touring car.

Ronald Housland of the Glendale Motor Car company, 124 West Colorado street, Chrysler and Maxwell distributors, drove a standard touring car to the top of the hill, and when Lyman P. Clark, the president of the firm, reported the accomplishment to the Greer-Robbins company of Southern California, distributors of the Chrysler, they sent out another car to make the same test, and the second car made the grade as easily as the first one did.

"As a matter of fact," Mr. Clark maintains, "Reservoir hill was never intended as a place to drive automobiles. The only path up it is a long a fire break where the trees have been cut down and over a dirt road that has a loose surface that allows the wheels of the car to spin around if there isn't enough weight in the machine to hold it down and give it traction. Both cars that made the hill this week carried four passengers each, and the Chrysler small-bore engine, with its world of power, carried them to the top with an ease that surprised even the mechanical experts who made the trip.

"Coming down the hill was another breath-taking experience. The tendency of any car equipped with two-wheel brakes is for the rear end to whip around and change ends with the front when coming down a steep grade, but the Lockheed hydraulic four-wheel brakes on the Chrysler eliminated every tendency to change ends and brought the car down the loose, tortuous declivity in entire safety."

Traveling Salesmen
Get Baggage Permit

Traveling salesmen driving ordinary passenger cars will be permitted by the division of motor vehicles to carry baggage not in excess of 150 pounds without paying the additional weight fee for vehicles used for commercial purposes.

If the samples carried weigh more than 150 pounds, the salesman will be deemed to be operating his car primarily in the transportation of property and a weight fee will be charged.

DEATH TOLL IS SAFETY LESSON

Records Reveal Forty-eight Killed in L. A. County During April

An idea of the toll of human life constantly being exacted by motor vehicles in all parts of the country can be had from the report of fatal accidents in Los Angeles county during April. These are compiled from transcripts of coroner's inquests by the public safety department of the Automobile Club of Southern California. The record is an impressive lesson for care in driving.

Of the total deaths from accidental causes in the county, forty-eight were traced to motor vehicles. There were 100 in all, an increase of thirty-two over the corresponding month last year.

Collisions between motor vehicles and pedestrians continued to hold first place among the fatalities. There were nineteen of the forty-eight deaths attributable to this cause, an increase of eleven deaths in this classification over the corresponding month last year.

Cutting in ahead of other cars also is providing a prolific cause of loss of life. There were ten fatalities under this heading. Five children lost their lives while playing in the street, and five persons were killed crossing the street not at cross walks. Incompetent handling of cars caused eight deaths, and two more fatalities resulted through driving to the left of a street car. Only one of the fatal accidents was attributable to weather conditions.

All Eyes on Indiana Until After Big Race

Instead of the speedway world looking to Los Angeles for news of the doings of the world-famous knights of the open throttle, Los Angeles will now have to turn its eyes toward Indianapolis, where the pilots of these modern cars of Juggernaut will do battle for first honors Memorial Day.

In southern California, particularly, much interest is being displayed in the annual 500-mile International Sweepstakes on the famed Hoosier oval, due to the fact that nearly half of the competitors live here when not racing. Moreover, of the thirty-one entries, thirteen of them were built in Los Angeles by Harry A. Miller, celebrated automobile engineer, who has constructed the fastest cars in the world.

Place Big Order for Latest Highway Maps

An order for ten thousand automobile maps having southern California, central California northern California and also the whole Pacific coast, has just been placed with Rand McNally company by the Standard Automobile Club, Inc., 1126 and 1127 Loew's State building, according to President Thomas J. Lynch.

These maps are said to be the very latest thing, and show all roads completed up to the first of the year. They are novel in that they will also show grades and conditions of roads at all points, and will have lists of hotels, garages, service stations, etc., along all the routes shown on the maps.

California's Cost to Eliminate Crossings

SACRAMENTO, May 29.—If will cost California $26,000,000 to build the necessary bridges and eliminate the dangerous grade crossings in the state highway system, according to estimates prepared by State Highway Engineer Robert M. Morton.

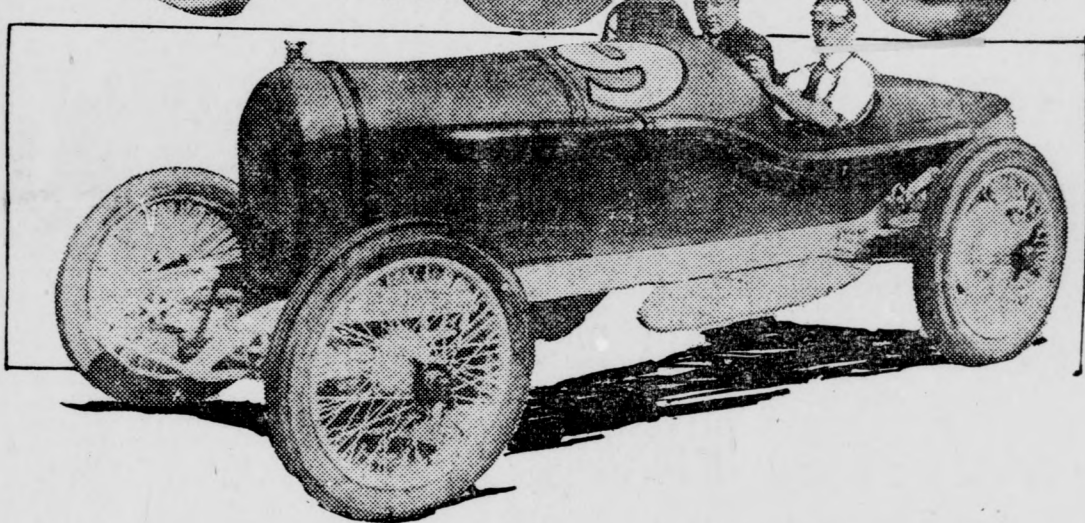

A survey of highway conditions just completed shows the need of 244 bridges on the state system at the present time, Morton says. If funds were available, he declares, these bridges ought to be under construction now. He holds $12,000,000 to be a conservative estimate of the cost involved.

Helpful Advice About Getting Out of Mud

When stuck in a mudhole or on a sandy stretch, do not speed up the engine and "jump" the clutch. This will only cause the wheel to spin and the car to sink deeper. Open the throttle only far enough to keep the engine from stalling and engage the clutch slowly. The chances are that this method will procure traction.

Daredevils Set For Gun

The best speed cars America can produce and the greatest drivers the country boasts are ready to impel the foreign invaders in the twelfth annual blue ribbon auto race at Indianapolis Decoration day. Eddie Hearne, winner last year; Tommy Milton, twice winner; Jimmy Murphy, winner in 1921 and holder of the record for the event—these and more are ready for the gun. A total of 31 cars are entered. All but a few of these are expected to start the big event.

Easy to Remove Small Screws by This Plan

It is often difficult to start by hand the small screws such as are used in the magneto, speedometer, etc. An easy way around this difficulty is to hold the screws between the legs of a pair of calipers, a drawing compass, or even in the slot of an ordinary steel pen. The screw is then driven home by the small screwdriver. This same method may be used in replacing small nuts located inaccessibly.

Flapping Portions of Tires Should Be Cut

Cut off loose sections at once when the tread of a tire breaks and begins to flap. The centrifugal force exerted on the flapping piece of rubber tread, because of the motion of the wheel, will simply tend to tear off more of it. In fact, a very large portion of the tread may come off in a very short distance, thus exposing a large part of the casing and increasing the possibility of punctures.

Watch Small Parts on Car With Great Care

Every time a nut, bolt, washer, cotter-pin, or other part of an automobile is found on the highway it should be a reminder to owners to go over their cars to see that all parts are intact. These small parts indicate that there are many careless motorists, who do not tighten body nuts or see that cotter-pins are in place. They, therefore, are constantly losing vitally important pieces of machinery.

AWAIT FLAG STARTING CLASSIC

Best and Fastest Cars and Drivers Anxious for 500-Mile Grind

By C. F. HARBOLD
Special Correspondent of The Glendale Evening News, Copyright 1924
INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., May 29.—When the Pigmy motored, frail looking little automobiles line up Friday morning for the fifteenth Indianapolis motor speedway Olympic, it will be a far cry to the start of the classic in 1911 when Ray Harroun drove his big Marmion to victory at the astounding rate of seventy-four miles an hour.

All of the thirty-two entrants in the race this year must pass a qualifying test of eighty miles an hour and already some have shown a speed of 108 miles an hour in practice runs.

The development of motordom is told at the speedway. Harroun's lumbering old racer bore an engine with 600 cubic inches of piston displacement. The tiny little speedsters there now have been cut down to less than flivver size, with 122 cubic inches of piston displacement. Last year Tommy Milton, twice winner of the classic, broke all speedway records by sending his car to victory at the average rate of 90.95 miles an hour.

Ford to Referee
Henry Ford, who took a turn at the racing game himself back in 1903, will be the referee, and three of his products—75 per cent pure Ford—will be in the race under the name of Barber-Warlock specials. It will be a contest of specials with four Duesenbergs, five Durants, one Dempsey, one Hartley, one Hoosier, two Kess-Lines, six Millers, one Roef, one Mourre, one Sinclair, one Schmidt, one Wale, one Wells-Hornet and two unnamed entrants making up the list.

Many of the veteran pilots again will undertake the gruelling 500-mile drive, among them being Cliff Durant, the millionaire sportsman; Eddie Hearne, Pete Dapolo, L. L. Corum, Harry Miller, Benny Hill, Tom Alley, Ira Vail, Earl Cooper and Jimmy Murphy and Tommy Milton, both former speedway kings.

Why Oakland's Chassis is more advanced

- 1 Oakland's new L-head engine is a masterpiece of light-six engineering. It incorporates the very latest developments in motor design.
- 2 The transmission is a unit with the engine. Gears of the finest alloy steel and liberal ball bearings, insure quiet and long life. Gear shifting is actually a pleasure.
- 3 The rugged, drop-forged, "I" beam front axle was purposely designed for this car. Its correct construction insures easy steering and safe driving.
- 4 Oakland's semi-floating rear axle is the last word in axle design. Its nickel steel gears, Hyatt and New Departure Bearings and spiral bevel gear drive make it silent and efficient.
- 5 Oakland's four-wheel brakes are built into the chassis. Many months of service by tens of thousands of owners prove conclusively that this construction is most necessary and desirable.
- 6 Oakland's frame is of pressed steel, 5/32 of an inch thick and is rigidly braced with five cross members. In comparing frames do not neglect the fact that the thickness of the steel is very important.
- 7 The steering gear is unequalled for easy and convenient driving. All engine controls, as well as horn button and lighting controls, are mounted on the steering wheel, an exclusive feature.
- 8 Demountable disc steel wheels—five of them—are standard equipment on all models. On most cars you pay extra for them.

Long, easy-riding springs; Harrison radiator with heavily nicked shell; completely enclosed universal joints and tubular drive shaft are other important features.

Examine the Oakland Six yourself. You will then understand why the True Blue Oakland is being chosen by so many who have decided to get the most and the best for their money this year.

A SIX By Hudson

"The Car for Everyone"

says noted "MOTOR" authority

The New Essex possesses many qualities which I did not believe could be incorporated in a closed car selling for $975.

"It is a type long needed in this country. It possesses grace and beauty, can travel at sustained high speed without passenger discomfort, is surprisingly economical to operate and does not cost much to buy.

"It is unusually smooth, accelerates better than the previous Essex, which is saying a great deal, and is 'the car for everyone.'—H. A. Tarantous, in MOTOR.

COAST APPROVES SIGNING OF BILL

Coolidge's Action in Fixing Signature to Exclusion Measure Praised

WASHINGTON, May 29.—The approval by President Coolidge of the immigration bill which provides for total exclusion of Japanese laborers from the United States, won unstinted support from Pacific coast representatives in Congress.

Among those was Senator Samuel L. Shortridge, author of the Japanese exclusion amendment to the immigration bill, approved by the president, who said: "By approving the immigration bill the president has rendered a great service to our country and to our civilization."

"We of California, who have urged the exclusion of aliens ineligible to citizenship are profoundly grateful to those from other sections of the country who have assisted us.

"I rejoice and am exceedingly glad that our long fight is over and win.

Avoids Race Problem

"In consequence with the wishes of the American people should be introduced into the United States and in accordance with the wishes of the people of the state of California that no ineligible aliens should be permitted to help form the policy of the government of the United States, I introduced an amendment to the constitution of the United States providing for their exclusion."

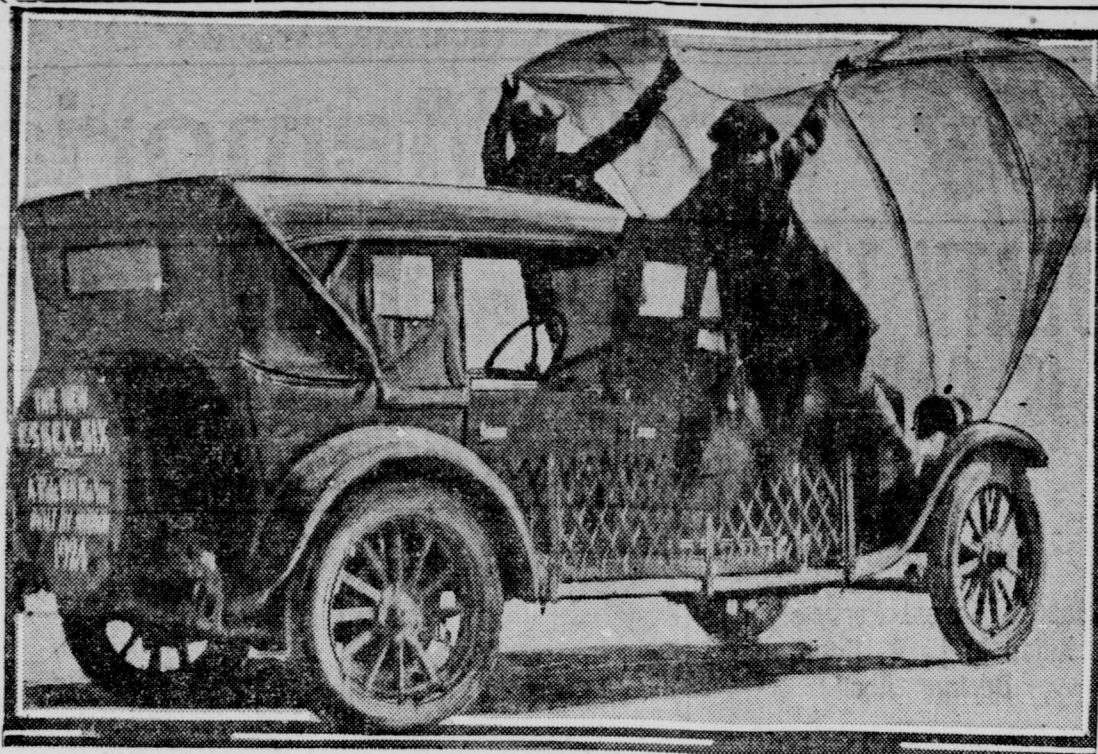

"The president signed the bill, we have won. The country is to be congratulated."

An atom is 2000 times too small to be seen through a microscope, says Dr. W. D. Harkins, of the University of Chicago.

Auto Sails On Dry Lake

A stretch of canvas, hitched to the front end of an ESSEX SIX, furnished enough traction in a fresh breeze to send the car at a rapid clip over the bed of a dry lake near Muroc, close to the Mojave desert.

"No matter where a motorist happens to drive these days, he may find sport in his sporting instincts are uppermost. Few people would dream of sailing on a dry lake, and yet that is what a camping party in an Essex Six touring car did last week," says P. A. Kelley, of the Kelley Motor Co., 816 South Brand boulevard, Hudson and Essex dealers.

"Tiring of drifting on the boulevards and climbing to mountain resorts, this party decided upon a novel experience. They loaded their tents, bedding, cook stove, and other camp paraphernalia into the little six and headed for Rosamond, out in the Mojave desert. Here they turned to the right and followed the desert road to Muroc. From Muroc the road leads directly across a six-mile expanse of lake—minus the water. This bed is an alluvial deposit, almost as hard as concrete and as level as a dance floor.

"During the night a brisk wind came up, and by morning had increased to a gale. Launching out of the tent, the party saw their Essex Six gently rolling off across the lake. This gave them an idea. 'Let's put a sail on it and do a little sailing—a la ice boat.' "It took but a minute to rig up a canvas to the headlights, with guy ropes to be held by the hands. They tied the steering wheel solidly and went skimming on as strange a cruise as All Baba with his magic carpet. "This was certainly a demonstration of the easy rolling qualities of the Essex Six," said Mr. Kelley, in commenting upon their experience. "When a motor car can be so finely constructed that all the power required to drive it is a gentle breeze, it is nearing perfection."

San Diego Merchants Pessimistic, Says Kirk

A comparison of business conditions in Glendale and in San Diego gives this city a distinct advantage, according to W. S. Kirk of the Kirk-Buile company, realtors, 1131 East Colorado street, who, with Mrs. Kirk, has visited the southern city twice during the last two weeks.

Mr. Kirk found that many of the San Diego merchants are wearing long faces and are complaining that business has fallen off, and his attempts to inject some of the Glendale pep, he says, into their minds did not meet with the success he hoped for.

No spot on the mainland of the United States has wholly escaped freezing weather, according to records of the weather bureau since 1871.

BUICK CAR DOES PICTURE STUNTS

Buster Keaton Uses Machine in Strenuous Test at Fifty-Mile Clip

The endless search on the part of moving picture producers for new mediums with which to create laughter and thrill audiences of the silver screen is nowhere better indicated than in the effect bestowed on the filming of "Sherlock, Jr." Buster Keaton's latest picture, says Ray L. Galvin, sales manager of Tanner & Hall, Ltd., South Brand boulevard at Maple avenue, local Buick dealers.

In the photographing of scenes for "Sherlock, Jr." it was necessary for him to travel fifty miles an hour in an automobile, apply the brakes suddenly at the edge of a lake and for the body of the car to part company with the chassis and go gliding out upon the surface of the lake with the top acting as a sail. As Keaton expressed it, "This was an extremely dangerous stunt, and it is not hard to imagine death or serious injury might result."

Continuing, he said: "We all realized that the car must be equipped with marvelous brakes and 'make good.' After a thorough investigation we decided on the Buick six equipped with four-wheel brakes.

"We knew that in the Buick we had a car that we could rely on, a car that would not only be safe but make our situation what we expected. In the photographing of the 'gas' I traveled at even fifty miles an hour, stepped on the brakes and they responded. It was one of the finest performances I have ever seen a car give and I have nothing but the highest praise for the Buick with four-wheel brakes. My life was in jeopardy, but I felt perfectly safe. That is the confidence I had in the Buick."

DEALER DEMANDS REAL TESTIMONY

Chevrolet Performance Upheld by Figures from Satisfied Users

"Actual figures on what a car can accomplish," says C. L. Smith, Chevrolet distributor, Orange and Colorado streets, "form much more impressive testimony than the claims of a dealer or an advertising writer. That is why I always want to find out, in dollars and cents, just what any Chevrolet, whether it has been sold by my firm or by another agent, has done for its owners."

"Here is the testimony of a cash register salesman, who writes me that he has kept his territory in the front rank of sales for his organization and at the same time has kept his expense account down below the figures turned in by the other salesmen simply through the constant use of his Chevrolet."

"He has covered a total of 18,471 miles in the past nine months, carrying a heavy load of demonstration registers in the car, and having to cope with all possible road conditions, and yet in all that time he says he has never had the bearings tightened, he has never been hung up on the road, and never had the water in his radiator boil in all that time, while only one spark plug has ever been taken out of the motor in that time."

"That sort of evidence shows beyond any question the wisdom of buying a Chevrolet, and business men who have to cover a lot of territory can do it at low cost and with the greatest driving ease and comfort in a Chevrolet."

MODERNISM MAY CHANGE METHODS, YET WOMEN PAY

Two Tragic Cases Cited in Berkeley as Proof of Ancient Law

By L. C. OWEN
Special Correspondent of The Glendale Evening News, Copyright 1924.
BERKELEY, Calif., May 29.—Feminism carrying with it the right to vote, to wear short skirts and bobbed tresses, has wrought many changes in the lot of women. But there is one seemingly immutable law handed down from the time of Adam, that even the militant feminists have been unable to change. It is that the "woman must pay." If there is any doubt as to the truth of this ancient law, two tragic cases which are passing through the courts here just now bear pointed witness to it.

One case involves the wife of a university savant of considerable wealth and note. The other involves the wife of a prominent lawyer. One case brings strikingly to the fore the propensity of husbands to "cast the first stone." The other presents a little more of husbandly charity. But in both cases the woman is paying.

Husband Departs
Mrs. Nancy Ochsner whose husband, formerly was a member of the faculty of Stanford university, a geologist of some prominence, was arrested recently after her automobile had crashed into another, injuring its woman occupant. She was charged with driving while intoxicated. Her husband, feeling keenly the humiliation of the situation, took their children and went away, leaving her to face the music—alone and penniless. How thoroughly she has paid is graphically told in her lawyer's plea for a divorce. She was charged with driving while intoxicated. Her husband, feeling keenly the humiliation of the situation, took their children and went away, leaving her to face the music—alone and penniless. Her husband, feeling keenly the humiliation of the situation, took their children and went away, leaving her to face the music—alone and penniless. How thoroughly she has paid is graphically told in her lawyer's plea for a divorce.

Is Sent to Jail
The court, in passing sentence, expressed accord with the lawyer's plea, but said the law gave him no alternative but to fine Mrs. Ochsner the minimum fine, $500. Unable to pay she was sent to jail.

The other woman who transgressed and paid, and still is paying, is Mrs. Hugo N. Orr, wife of a Berkeley lawyer. Their intimate friends believed them idealistically mated. They had two small children.

Then one night Mrs. Orr surreptitiously went for an automobile ride with another man. The car broke down. Bandits came along, robbed her escort and kidnapped Mrs. Orr. Later they threw her from their car and she was found unconscious at the roadside. Her husband found her at the police station, where she had given a fictitious name.

Stands by Wife
In the sensational developments that followed, Orr stood by his wife. He declared she had his consent to go for the ride.

Sedan Wins Sweepstakes

The test that the Economy run from Los Angeles to Yosemite imposes on cars entered in this event showed the mettle of the OAKLAND SIX closed model, that was placed first in its own class by the judges.

The Oakland sedan carried off the premier honors in the closed car class as well as winning the silver mug for the best economical performance in its price class. This was driver E. L. Peterson's first economy effort and he piloted his mount in splendid style as the records show. The car averaged 18.18 miles on a gallon of gasoline for the hard 400 mile trip and used but one pint of oil, a very remarkable showing for a closed car and one that few open cars ever equal.

Secretaries to Meet
At Palo Alto School

The monthly meeting of the Association of Southern Commercial Secretaries that was scheduled for Eureka last month, but that was called off on account of the foot-and-mouth disease restrictions, will be held in connection with the summer school that is to be conducted at Palo Alto during July. One entire day of the session will be devoted to a study of the problems of commercial secretaries, and E. F. Sanders, secretary of the Glendale Chamber of Commerce, is planning to attend, as he did last year.

According to the police he "lived like a gentleman." The other man said that if Orr divorced Mrs. Orr he would marry her. Orr filed suit. In it he made no mention of a correspondent. He merely alleged incompatibility. But, meanwhile, the other man has dropped out of sight. And Mrs. Orr has gone to work. She is paying.

DIAMOND DRILLS USED IN FACTORY

Nash Connecting Rods Are Bored by High-Priced,
Gem-Studded Tools

The diamond, which for centuries has lolled about on the lap of luxury, adorning delicate settings of rare platinum and gold, has been put to a practical and useful occupation by the manufacturer of automobiles, according to Donald C. Barbee, of the Nash Sales Company, 1234 South Brand boulevard. The precious gem, devoid of glittering setting and attired in overalls, so to speak, is now working shoulder to shoulder in the factory of the Nash Motors company with its less romantic brethren of the steel and copper branches of the mineral family, he said.

"The average car owner marveling at the smoothness of his motor is not aware, perhaps, of the important contribution made by the diamond in attaining this smoothness as $75,000 worth of these precious gems are carried on hand by Nash Motors as part of its regular factory tool equipment," he said.

"For some years past manufacturers have used diamonds, because of their hardness, to resurface emery wheels, but in the Nash factory the diamond also adorns the 'business end' of the boring bar in a machine which bores the bearings in Nash connecting rods. So efficient is the diamond in this important work that a fit, described by production men as being one thousand per cent perfect, is attained for the wrist pin."

"That, of course means longer life for the motor, the elimination of any possibility of a wrist pin knock or slap, and a motor that is smoother in operation. The hole bored by the diamond for the wrist pin is so perfect, in fact, that it baffles the micrometer, a measuring instrument

LOS ANGELES, May 29.—Mr. and Mrs. Alfred H. Beckman of New York City are registered at the Alexandria. He is secretary and treasurer of the National Chain Store Grocers' association.

"It is due to these diamond drills for connecting rod bearings, the honing of its cylinders and the scientific balancing of its crankshaft that the Nash motor is not only smooth in operation but possess such long life. Perfect fit and absolute balance mean absence of friction and vibration. Most of the diamonds used in the Nash Motors operations are of unusual size and of the black variety. The precious stones are gathered up at night and turned over to a custodian who places them in a safety deposit vault."

A Far Greater Car Than Its Price Indicates

Judge the Maxwell by the standards you associate with a much higher price, and even then the good Maxwell will lead by a wide margin.

Everything in it is good and true—fine chrome nickel steel is used in as many places in the good Maxwell as in cars selling at nearly twice as much.

All the efforts of a great and powerful organization are directed towards making it the best buy in the world at anywhere near its price.

We will demonstrate gladly—for riding comfort and ease of handling make the car itself its own best spokesman.

things so interesting for the Americans in years gone by will not be present this year. Not a single European entrant—unless the rebuilt Schmidt could be called one—has been entered. It is purely an American contest this year for the first time in the history of the track.

Ralph De Palma, who hung up the track record in 1915 and who twice had victory within his grasp in other contests only to be denied by a strange quirk of fate, will be missing this year, having been placed in the outlaw list. Roddy Wilcox, an Indianapolis favorite and winner in 1919, will be missed, having died at the wheel of one of his loved speedsters within the year.

It is estimated that a crowd of 150,000 will pay $1,000,000 to see the races, making it one of the biggest sporting events of the year.

Prize Money Big

The crowd which comes by motor and train from all over the country drops between $1,000,000 and $5,000,000 to the city.

Approximately $100,000 in prizes will be distributed among the drivers. The winner will take $20,000 and the others will receive from $10,000 for second place to $1,400 for tenth position. In addition, Indianapolis merchants have put up $10,000, which will be distributed $100 at a time to the winner of each lap. It is possible for one driver to set out ahead and win all of the first prize money as well as the first prize. In addition, thousands of dollars' worth of special prizes are donated by accessory concerns and $10,000 is divided among the pilots who do not finish.

In every race for the last two years the crowd has been brought to its feet by a daring rabbit that has darted down the home stretch among the roaring motors. That same rabbit is out there now practicing in the tall grass to do his annual "stuff."

PAID FOR BRAVERY

PASADENA, May 29.—A former Pasadena boy, Lieut. W. R. Big And Little Speeders

MAJOR FREDERICK J. MARTIN, famous aviator who narrowly escaped death in the frozen North, is shown after riding in the small Reo car parked alongside the plane, whose remains now lie somewhere on a bleak, snowbound peak somewhere between Chignik and Dutch Harbor.

One of the most interesting photographs of Major Frederick L. Martin, commander of the United States air service world flight expedition who narrowly escaped death in a crash with the side of a mountain while flying in a fog, is this picture taken on the day before the world flight was undertaken.

The 1905 Reo in which Major Martin was photographed belongs to H. G. Coleman, Company 10, Soldiers' home, Los Angeles. The photo was made at Clover field, a few miles from the Soldiers' home, where Coleman had driven the little motor car, one of the first of its line, at a speed of 30 miles an hour.

Major Martin accepted an invitation to go for a spin in the old Reo, and at the close of the ride consented to have his picture taken in the little car drawn up beside the mighty airplane, "Seattle," in which he hopped off for the world flight the following day, and in which he later crashed into a mountain top between Chignik and Dutch Harbor during a blinding storm.

The Glendale factory branch of the Reo Motor Car company is located at 124-126 South Orange street.

WATER SHORTAGE

PASADENA, May 29.—"Sunshine vs. Water Saving." That might be the title of the most interesting topic of the day here. An emergency ordinance now is effective prohibiting the use of water for irrigating purposes, and the longer the sun does not shine the less burned the vegetation in the vicinity will be. Overland Cleans Up!

Wins Sweepstakes (Los Angeles to Camp Curry) Yosemite Economy Run

Twice a winner of the coveted sweepstakes prize in the Annual Yosemite Economy Run, the Overland again triumphs in the 1924 Camp Curry contest.

Overland averaged 29.36 miles per gallon of gasoline over 400 miles of strenuous valley, mountain and desert road. Only 13% gallons of gasoline were required to go the distance. No oil was used.

In this contest as in normal driving, the Overland proved its operating economy. Conditions were like those the average motorist encounters daily. Consistent winners of the Economy Run honors proved that the Overland is a superior car—the most automobile in the world for the money.

Overland also Wins Two Class Cups (Class 1-A and Class 2-A)

In addition to winning the sweepstakes, Overland Model 92 also won the cup in Class 2-A.

Another Overland, Model 91, won the cup in Class 1-A, using 14% gallons of gasoline; no oil, and averaging 28.03 miles per gallon of gasoline for the 400 miles.

Uncle Wiggily Bedtime Stories

By HOWARD R. GARIS

"Uncle Wiggily, I am going away," said Nurse Jane Fuzzy Wuzzy to the rabbit gentleman in the hollow stump bungalow one day.

"What! Going away? Not forever, I hope!" said Mr. Longears, and he felt very sad.

"Oh, no, indeed. Just for a few days," said the muskrat lady housekeeper. "I am going to pay a little visit to Mrs. Twistytail, the lady pig. And while I am gone, Uncle Wiggily, perhaps you would like one of your gentleman friends to come and visit you."

"Say! That would be nice! I never thought of that!" laughed the rabbit uncle. "I'll invite Uncle Butter, the goat, and Mr. Whitewash, the polar bear gentleman, and—"

"Hold on, if you please!" chuckled Nurse Jane. "I think two are enough. If you invite any more the bungalow will be a sorry looking sight when I get home. I know what you men will do—never wash the dishes, never make the beds, and as for sweeping and dusting—well, I needn't speak of that."

"Don't worry!" said Uncle Wiggily. "I'll keep the bungalow neat and clean. But I wasn't going to invite anyone besides Uncle Butter and Mr. Whitewash. I was just going to say, and when they get here we'll have a good time together."

"I suppose you will," sighed Nurse Jane.

The muskrat lady got ready to go visiting to the pig lady's house and Uncle Wiggily went to the telephone to call up Uncle Butter.

"Hello! Hello!" said the rabbit to the goat gentleman. "Come on over and visit me! I'm inviting you and the polar bear gentleman, for Nurse Jane is going away. We'll have some fun!"

"Hurray!" bleated Uncle Butter. "I'll come!"

Then Uncle Wiggily called up the ice cave of the white polar bear.

"Yes, I'll come," promised Mr. Whitewash. "I'll bring my own cake of ice with me, so you won't need to take yours out of the refrigerator."

"That will be nice," said Uncle Wiggily. For polar bears, you know, must always sit on a cake of ice, even in winter.

Well, after Nurse Jane had gone, and Uncle Wiggily had invited his friends to come and visit him, the rabbit gentleman sat down in his easy chair in the bungalow to think what he should give the goat and the polar bear to eat.

"For supper tonight we shall have watermelon pancakes with strawberry shortcake sauce on," he said out loud. And no sooner had he spoken than a voice said:

"I don't care to have that for my supper!"

"Oh, don't you? What do you want?" asked Uncle Wiggily with a laugh, thinking Uncle Butter had arrived and was playing a joke.

"I want YOU!" went on the voice, and looking toward the door, the rabbit saw the Wolf coming in. Nurse Jane had forgotten to close the door.

"Yes, I want you for my supper!" growled the Wolf. "Come on to my den, now," and he wasn't even polite enough to say "if you please."

"Oh!" gasped Uncle Wiggily. "Will you kindly wait until I get my hat!"

"No!" snarled the Wolf. "Never mind your hat! I don't eat hats! Come along!"

Uncle Wiggily slowly rose from his chair, and he was about to follow the Wolf, for he didn't know what else to do, when, all of a sudden, the bunny gentleman thought of Uncle Butter and Mr. Whitewash, who would soon come to the bungalow.

"Look here, Mr. Wolf," spoke the bunny, while the bad chap was looking at his white vest to see if it had any specks on it. "Look here! I've invited a couple of friends to visit me. If they come, and I'm not here, it will be a bit awkward, don't you know? Just let me write a letter and leave it on the table for them. In the letter I'll tell them I had to go away, and that they are to make themselves at home, cutting themselves a piece of cake, and so on."

"Go ahead—write the letter, and be quick!" growled the Wolf. So Uncle Wiggily sat down with his fountain pen and a bit of white birch bark for paper. The Wolf sat near him. Uncle Wiggily started to write.

"Dear me!" exclaimed the rabbit. "This fountain pen—it's stuck. I guess! It won't write. I must shake it." He shook it, and shook a big blot of black ink on the Wolf's white vest. Uncle Wiggily did it on purpose, too, though he pretended it was an accident.

"I say! Look here!" howled the Wolf, who was very proud of his white vest. "Don't do that! You're inking me!"

"Yes, and I'm going to ink you some more!" shouted the bunny. With that he shook some ink in the Wolf's right eye. Then, before the bad chap could wipe that away, the rabbit shook some ink in the Wolf's left eye.

"Oh, I can't see! My eyes are full of ink!" howled the Wolf, and binging and banging himself against the walls, out of the bungalow the bad chap ran to find some water to wash the ink out of his eyes.

"I guess I don't need to write a letter now," chuckled the bunny as the Wolf ran farther and farther off. "He won't come back to take me away. I'll be here when my friends come." And soon Uncle Butter arrived with Mr. Whitewash, and they said the rabbit was very brave.

The three friends had a fine time in the bungalow while Nurse Jane was gone, and it was a week before the Wolf got the ink out of his eyes.

And, if umbrellas doesn't try to hide in the rubber boot when the rain drop wants to tickle it in the ribs, I'll tell you next about Uncle Wiggily passing the cake.

Among the many new residences nearing completion in Glendale is a beautiful nine-room dwelling at 1521 Myrtle street, being built by Robert Peters, Sr., of Los Angeles. While it is very old and old-fashioned in architectural design, Mr. Peters has spared neither pains nor money to make this home most modern and complete.

Glendale should feel right proud when baseball is mentioned. Why? Just think of the glory with which young Elmke, the popular Angel pitcher from Glendale, is crowning himself and the team he represents.

The Glen Eyrie chapter, O. E. S., will entertain about 200 out-of-town matrons and patrons at their initiation meeting in Masonic temple tonight.

Why I Am In Glendale

I came to Glendale because I wished to rear my children in health and happiness in a home of their own, in a neighborhood where refined people live.

I moved from Los Angeles because undesirable foreign people became our neighbors, lowering the tone of the neighborhood, and decreasing property values.

I feel that my home in Glendale is safe from these things. It is a good investment as well as a home.

Glendale is attractive. From the moment I entered the business district and viewed the bright clean little shops, the big new buildings, the clean well paved streets, the green lawns, trees and flowers and all the lovely new homes, until I looked up and away to the surrounding hills and mountains with their silvery streams, to the blue sky, I have been glad that I came to Glendale.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 29.—Fear, starvation and death! There's one man who laughs at these.

He is blue-eyed, retiring, college professor-like Vilhjalmur Stefansson, famous explorer.

Stefansson, who twelve years ago left the chair of anthropology at Harvard to find and explore new lands in the frozen North, smiled at possible tragedy and death here just before he turned his face to the South and left for the unexplored wilds of Australia.

Stefansson's hope is to find new territory that is rich in the things humans demand or to prove that land known for years and regarded as worthless is full of what the world uses daily.

"Australia has certain portions, especially the great Australian desert, which are declared worthless," he said. "I want the world to know whether these lands hold anything for humanity. Once the great American West was regarded as worthless. Same thing with Alaska. Perhaps parts of Australia thought to be useless will be found valuable."

"Next in line is Africa. Two years from now I plan to visit places in Africa where, it is said, a white man has never set foot."

A new feature of Stefansson's

Australian expedition will be the use of airplanes.

The explorer believes the airplane will prove a big asset in exploration. He does not regard the mishaps of the American round-the-world flyers in Alaska as final argument that the airplane is too uncertain and dangerous to be used in exploration.

Stefansson is of the opinion that within twenty-five years airplane routes will dot the world. Great airships, he thinks, will carry passengers in jig time from one continent to another.

"Especially from the north to the south will the airplane and other aircraft play a big part in transportation," explains the explorer. "We have routes by ship from east to west, but our routes are few from north to south. The aircraft of the future will fill this want of the world's business men and those who must travel quickly."

Stefansson is bitter at delayed plans for the flight of the American dirigible Shenandoah to the North Pole. He thinks that a great mistake if the gigantic airship is not sent on the trip to the north.

The explorer believes land which may prove of great value, rich in mineral and other wealth, may be found in the north.

COPELAND POINTS OUT NEED FOR SERUM BILL NOW BEFORE CONGRESS

"Many city people think that farmers are old-fashioned and behind the times. But in getting laws passed to protect their cows, hogs and chickens from fake vaccines, they have showed themselves to be more up to date than many public spirited city people."

Roy L. Cope, physician, senator from New York, in an interview regarding the serum bill before congress.

"Following the discovery that many contagious diseases were caused by germs, there came into a number of special new remedies for the treatment of these diseases. These remedies are known as vaccines and serums. They are used in the treatment of diseases of men, women and children, as well as diseases of domestic animals."

"These remedies may be dangerous as well as useful, so great care is necessary in preparing them."

"In 1902, the congress of the United States enacted the first vaccine and serum law so that no vaccines or serums intended for use in the treatment of human beings could be sold without a license issued by the United States Public Health Service."

"Such licenses were issued only to manufacturers producing such remedies in well managed laboratories, subject to government inspection. This did away with contaminated serums, which before the law was passed had caused the death of many children from lockjaw and other deadly maladies."

"Following the enactment of this good law it was found that as years went by some manufacturers who sold vaccine in bottles stamped with the approval of the government license made wild claims about the remedies in order to increase their sales. These claims met with the strongest disapproval of the best element of the medical profession."

"Certain vaccines, sold under government license, were advertised in medical journals and circulated with the approval of the government license made wild claims about the remedies in order to increase their sales. Diet and Health

By LULU HUNT PETERS, M.D.
Author of Diet and Health, with Key to the Calories

ANSWERS TO INQUIRIES

Mrs. S.—Are you masticating your food thoroughly? Are you having a balanced diet, with enough roughage to insure at least one good bowel evacuation a day? Send for your articles on balanced diet and constipation and auto-intoxication.

Ruin—Please go to a doctor who specializes in nervous and mental disorders. If you need to see any other specialists he will advise you.

Mrs. R.—The white spots that come on your son's neck are known as vitiligo, or leucoderma (leuco—white; derma—skin). These spots are the opposite to "liver spots," or chasma, in that, instead of having unusual amounts of pigment, or coloring matter, they have no pigment at all in them. (Sometimes, around the edges of the white spots there will be more pigment than normal.) The size of the patches vary from that of a ten-cent piece to immense areas involving nearly the whole body. The general health does not seem to be affected and there seems to be no change in the sensibility of the skin on the spots, except an unusual sensitiveness to the sun's rays. If these spots are on the scalp or other hairy regions, the hair turns white.

The text books say the cause of the disease is not known. It may be due to a disturbance of the nervous supply to the part, or it may be due to a disturbance of the internal secretory or ductless glands. Not knowing the cause of them, the treatment is also unsatisfactory. Sometimes physicians use the glandular products for medication. The thing for you to do is to see a skin specialist. Build up the child's nutrition and general health to the highest possible level.

You ask what to do for a weak bladder. Frequent urination is often taken as a symptom of a weak bladder. It may not indicate a weak bladder at all. If there is a large amount of urine, as well as frequent urination, it may be that it is over-concentrated and acid, and is irritating for this reason. Another possibility is that there may be an irritation or inflammation of the urethra or tube leading from the bladder.

There are other things that might cause frequent urination. You must see your physician and have an examination to determine the cause. It is wise to keep the urine as unirritating as possible, and the way to do this is to eliminate meats and spicy foods and other condiments. Drink a great deal of water and have large portions of fruit and vegetables in your diet. Don't overeat.

"Dear Doctor Peters: I want you to know what a genuine blessing your book, 'Diet and Health,' has been to me. I am 33 years old, a wife since my eighteenth birthday and the mother of two sons. For the last five years, I have watched with increasing alarm my girlish figure disappear. I dieted—or, rather, thought I did, spasmodically and unintelligently. I bought your book, which I wouldn't sell for $50 if I couldn't replace it. Since February 9, when I weighed 160 pounds, I have colored down to 142 pounds; and when I lose five more I will be normal. A persistent case of constipation has left entirely and I feel, oh! so slim."

"A dear old spinster cousin who thoroughly disapproved of dieting and felt I should remain 'as the Lord made me' said yesterday, 'My dear, you look so young these days to have a high school size son call you Mother.' Thank you, Dr. Peters, I think you deserve a place in the Hall of Fame. I pray for you—it's all I can do to show my appreciation."

The instructions which Mrs. S. followed are similar to those I give in your newspaper. If you missed them, you may have a resume of them by sending a stamped, self-addressed envelope with four cents in stamps, with your request. Thank you, Mrs. S., for writing; and thank you again for your prayers.

My Dear Followers—When sending for material which we offer please remember to enclose a stamped envelope bearing your full name and address. The pamphlet on reducing and gaining is the only one for which you must enclose four cents in stamps extra. Address your letters to me in care of this paper. Make them as brief as possible, not over 200 words, and type or write them legibly with ink. Please sign your name as evidence of good faith—we will not use it in any way. Remember it is impossible for me to diagnose for you to answer you personally. I appreciate very much the beautiful letters you send me and regret to be unable to answer them all. The questions you ask will be answered in the columns as soon as possible. If they are of general interest, don't forget the s. a. s. e. if you expect me to send you the information I have offered.

To make a man's silk necktie, buy one spool of "Aviation" Silk (or any necktie crocheted of the desired color, and a number ten steel crochet hook.

The Satin Stitch is used in this tie. To make the Satin Stitch, take a single crochet of previous row and into the row below; that is, instead of working the single crochet stitch into the previous row, you work it into the row below the preceding row. Do this whenever the Satin Stitch is called for, in the following directions:

Begin by chaining 25 stitches.

Row One: Work 24 single crochet stitches, chain one, and turn.

Row Two: Two single crochet, one Satin Stitch, six single crochet, one Satin Stitch, one single crochet, one Satin Stitch, six single crochet, one Satin Stitch, three single crochet.

Repeat Row Two for 15 inches.

Then decrease for neck band by skipping one single crochet on each side of center Satin Stitches every fourth row till you have decreased all the single crochet stitches between the rows of Satin Stitches patterns and only 12 stitches remain.

Neck Band: Work in single crochet till neck band is one inch shorter than shirt band.

Short End of Tie: Increase one stitch on each side of center Satin Stitches in every fourth row till you have 24 stitches, then work in pattern the same as for long end till this end measures ten inches from last increasing. The tie is now done.

Answer to Recent Request for Crocheted Carnations: (Contributed by Mrs. K.): "I use a cork seven-eighths of an inch across the top; I cover this with dark green crocheting in close stitches, small end down. Still with the green, chain five, put in first stitch with thread over once; chain one, thread over once, till you get around. Break off and put on color; thread over twice and put three times in every green space. Next time round, do the same in the red spaces. It will be very full. Finish by chaining three, catch around the edge. Run ribbon through open green spaces and draw up close."

Tomorrow—Contributed Recipes for Liver Balls.

Women's Convention Chiefs

Club women from all over the United States will assemble in Los Angeles on June 3 for the opening of the seventeenth Biennial of the General Federation, which will consider many matters of vital interest during its sessions.

Here are the women behind the Seventeenth Biennial Convention of the General Federation of Women's Clubs, to be held in Los Angeles from June 2 to June 13.

An elaborate program has been prepared, and much important work and business is scheduled.

Mrs. Thomas G. Winter is the retiring president of the Federation.

Mrs. John D. Sherman is chairman of the committee on education and one of the strongest candidates to succeed Mrs. Winter as president of the organization.

Lessie Stringfellow Read is chairman of the press committee and a member of the board of directors.

Edith McClure Patterson is chairman of "Thrift."

Mrs. William R. Alvord is chairman of the division of citizenship training.

Mrs. Wallace J. Perham is also a candidate for the presidency.

Mrs. Robert J. Burdette is chairman of the biennial program, chairman of the foreign correspondence committee, chairman of requests, honorary vice-president and director for California.

Mrs. John L. Ruhl is candidate for second vice-president.

Mrs. Edward Franklin White is chairman of the department of legislation and also Deputy Attorney-General of the State of Indiana.

Mrs. Mary Mann Jennings is first vice-president of the General Federation and holds many important posts in State and civic organizations in Florida.

was one of the founders of the Republican party in Jackson, Mich., in 1854, so, as she says, she "is carrying on his work" in her efforts for the party.

"There was a time," Mrs. Blair says, "when American boys imbibed a knowledge of practical politics in ward caucuses in city and county conventions and in all the other open and public machinery used for carrying on a campaign. They could 'stick around' and 'listen in,' and it was often from such a start as this that the boy of the complexion toward things political became the 'boss' of the community. Girls, of course, had no such chance, and today, with the primary system prevailing, there is chance for neither boy or girl in this way."

"The women have shown a strong disposition to enquire exactly how the whole thing works. That is why there has been inaugurated the Republican Political Plattsborg which will give to women voters the information that will enable them to 'carry on.'"

Women generally are opposed to capital punishment for murder. This is what several prominent women have to say on the subject:

Mrs. John H. Griesel, chairman of penology of the New York Federation of Women's Clubs: "I disapprove of it absolutely. I have been very active in prison work since I was a young girl. To me the sixth commandment, 'Thou shalt not kill,' is just as binding on the state as on the individual. I do not think that the effect of executions on the individual has any tendency to prevent crime; in fact, I think each execution is a shock to the community with a politically bad moral effect. Life imprisonment suffices for, in my opinion, enough terrors for even the hardened criminal."

Mrs. Helen Varick Boswell, New York, vice-president of the Locomotive Engineers' Co-operative Trust Co.: "I have not seen that the continuation of capital punishment has been any deterrent to crime. Sometimes the wrong person is executed and killing under the law is just the same as any other killing. I believe that life imprisonment is a sufficiently ter-

Beauty Chats

TRICKS OF CHIROPODY

Strictly speaking, chiropody does not come under the heading of beauty trades. But most beauty shops rent out a corner for a chiropodist, and certainly well-cared for feet have more chances of being beautiful than neglected ones, so it seems quite proper that chiropody and shampooing and complexion building should go on side by side.

That reminds me, however, of a letter from a woman who suffers from a very bad corn. Every month she must go to a chiropodist, who charges $2 to take out the corn, which promptly returns. She wanted to know what clear liquid he used that softened the skin, so that with a corn knife he could take out the ugly calloused part.

I fancy he used a strong solution of oxalic acid. Similar solutions are on sale among the manicure implements as cuticle solvents. The acid bleaches and softens the skin, making the dead epidermis easily removable. If my correspondent wants, she can purchase cuticle solvent; there are many good makes, and after soaking the feet first in hot, soapy water and cutting off as much of the top of the corn as possible with a corn knife, she can herself put on the solvent with a bit of cotton, letting it soak in a few minutes. Then with the knife, she can very carefully cut away a great deal more of the dead skin that makes the painful corn.

Then she should do what the chiropodist apparently neglects, the one thing that will help prevent a new corn forming. These solvents are very drying, and they bring on a new corn quickly unless the skin is washed well with hot water and the corn rubbed thoroughly with oil or petroleum jelly. Just before, it should be treated with colloid to heal and soothe it. A bit of felt bound on will keep the shoe from rubbing.

C. M. A., X. Y. Z., Primp: The constant use of rouge will cause the pores to become coarse. Pimples and sallowness show that your digestive system is out of order, due to a sluggish liver or from poor elimination. At this season of the year, an easy way to overcome such troubles is to change your diet, eating more of the green vegetables and salads than the heavier foods you have been taking in the cold weather. Dandelion salad amounts to a spring tonic, as the dandelion purifies the blood and improves the action of the liver.

For blackheads, take a full warm bath every day, as the pores of the complexion are relieved this way; and for local treatment use hot, wet cloths over the blackheads to open pores, after which either scrub with complexion brush and a good soap, or massage with cream. Make final rinse very cold, or use an ice rub to close pores again.

Tomorrow—The Youthful Old Woman.

All inquiries addressed to Miss Forbes in care of the "Beauty Chats" department will be answered in these columns in their turn. This requires considerable time, however, owing to the great number received. So if a personal or quicker reply is desired, a stamped and self-addressed envelope must be enclosed with the question.—The Editor.

HANDY SPORT DRESS

NEW YORK, May 29.—The cleverest of sports frocks today is one that by a simple turn of the wrist, by a manipulation of clasps and buttons, may, at a moment's notice, be transformed into sports knickers. The golf match over, the clasps may be re-adjusted—and lo, the costume becomes a dress again.

RELIEVED CONSTIPATION

"I have been troubled the last 4 or 5 years with constipation and have tried everything under the sun, but could not find any relief until I got FOLEY CATHARTIC TABLETS, and you can bet they are the pills," writes Robert E. Disease Checked But Quarantine Still On

Alleged Bunco Men
Arrested in Drive

LOS ANGELES, May 29.—Al-though no new cases of foot and mouth disease have been reported among cattle herds in the southern part of the state this week, officials of the state department of agriculture announced today that all parts of Los Angeles county south of the Angelus and Santa Barbara national forest reserves were still under close quarantine and will remain so until the disease is entirely stamped out.

WEARING SCARVES

PARIS, May 29.—Trust the Parisienne to give a different twist even to the scarf. She wears it at present once around her throat exactly midway from the base of her neck to her chin and allows the ends to hang—one lower than the other—down in front.

NEW PARTY FROCK

LONDON, May 29.—An extraordinary garden party frock recently worn here is made up chiefly of ribbon loops of varying lengths about 12 inches in width. The skirt is altogether composed of these loops, while the bodice is straight and slim.

SILK WRAPS CHIC

NEW YORK, May 29.—Silk wraps come in with the coming of warmer weather. They are equally chic, either as cloaks or capes, and have this season delightful trimmings of feathers as well as of fur.

NEW TRIMMINGS

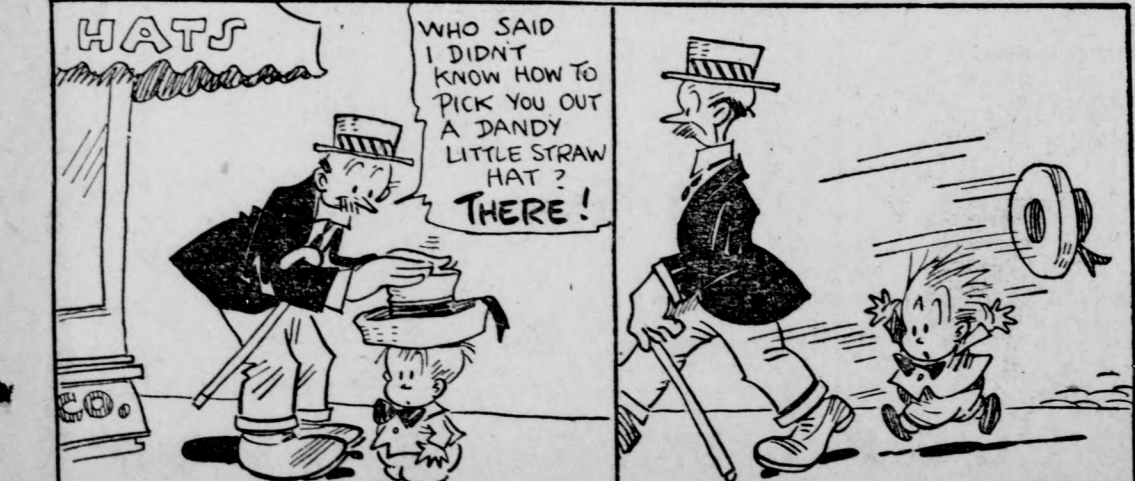

LONDON, May 29.—Burned peacock is a delightful new trimmings which has taken its place today with burned goose feathers. It forms the heart of many two-colored satin and taffeta flowers with which evening costumes are decorated.

TRAVELERS HAVE TROUBLE ON TRIP

Motorists Encounter Hard Luck Touring Through Northern Counties

EAGLE ROCK, May 29.—R. L. Brown of the local fire department has returned from a 1,500-mile motor trip through the northern counties. He reports spending $14.50 for fumigation, and says that one solution he had to drive the car through all the rubber off his new tires.

"But that wasn't all," he goes on. "When we arrived at Carson valley we found that a little snow had been falling, for the valley was lying under an icing ten feet deep. We detoured, were snow-bound for two days and then went through a deep valley where we struggled through snow up to the hubs for 29 miles."

Mr. Brown says he wouldn't have minded the fumigation so much if they hadn't charged for it, and he wouldn't have minded quite so much at that if they hadn't confiscated the food they had planned on taking up into the woods. The worthy remains of the machine in which they made the trip is not only bereft of any gloss, but carries with it an odor which alone and unabated should cure any hoof and mouth disease germs that come in its direction. The entire trip, according to Mr. Brown, consumed fifteen days.

Personal Items
P. H. Pearson, plumbing inspector for Eagle Rock, is spending two weeks at Marietta Springs, A. White is taking care of the work here during Mr. Pearson's absence.

Mrs. C. W. Hunt and Miss Anne Shepherd were present at the Alpha Chi Omega banquet in Hollywood Saturday night.

Mr. and Mrs. Donovan Harden and son are spending two weeks at Idyllwild.

NEW BUILDING TO REPLACE OLD ONE

Plan Brick Block on Site Where Structure Now Being Wrecked

EAGLE ROCK, May 29.—A new brick block is shortly to rise on Eagle Rock boulevard, just a few doors south on Colorado boulevard, at the location where the old building is now being wrecked. Joseph Kamaus is the owner of the property.

The new building, which has already been leased for five years by Jack Koons, barber, and Dr. Sam Liles, realtor, will contain three storerooms and will be one story in height.

The new stores will be modern in every detail, but will be erected at a moderate cost, under $10,000. A pressed brick front will be used. A. G. Dentman, architect for J. B. Brown & Co., designed the structure.

Mrs. L. M. Foote and son and daughter, Miss Hilda Foote, of Riverside were in Eagle Rock Monday on business. They have purchased a chicken ranch at Riverside for the benefit of Mrs. Foote's health. They used to live on North Eagle Rock boulevard.

Floyd Cole and wife have moved from their home in Royal drive and are now residing in their court on Colorado boulevard.

EXCLUSION BILL AFFECTS HAWAII

Fifty Per Cent of Honolulu Immigrants Are Japs; No Photo Brides

HONOLULU, May 30.—Hawaii's yearly number of immigrants will be reduced by fully 75 per cent through the exclusion clause in the new immigration bill, in the opinion of Federal immigration officials stationed at this port.

Records at the immigration office show that most of the immigrants who arrive here are aliens, ineligible for naturalization. More than half of these are Japanese.

During the last ten years 37,211 Japanese have been admitted to the territory and 31,036 Chinese, making an excess of arrivals of 6,175. Figuring in the births and deaths during that period, the territorial Bureau of Vital Statistics estimates that the increase among persons of Japanese blood has been 37,500.

No More Picture Brides
Up to the present time picture brides have been allowed to enter Hawaii, though they have been barred from the mainland for some years. Admission to Hawaii was granted because "the gentlemen's agreement" did not apply to this territory, but to "continental" United States.

Records show that during the eight-year period prior to 1919 there were 9,043 picture brides admitted to Hawaii.

Weather Chief Warns Of Brush Fire Peril

SAN FRANCISCO, May 29.—Describing present weather conditions along the entire Pacific coast as "especially bad for grass, brush and forest fires," G. H. Wilson, in charge of the local warning by radio. Similar warnings also were issued through lumbermen, forest service rangers and guards and other organizations covering Washington, Oregon and California.

Hot, dry, northerly winds, plus rising temperatures, which have followed close on the protracted dry period, have caused the critical condition, Wilson said. Wilson also stated that the northerly winds leave the atmosphere almost without any moisture and that small fires might easily get beyond control and result in a large conflagration.

Hopes to Pay Debts By Sale of Her Son

OAKLAND, May 29.—Jackie Thompson, 18 months old, is on the auction block today. His mother, Mrs. June Thompson, 20, a milliner, wants to sell the boy. The mother, deserted by the child's father, according to her story, says she faces poverty. She believes she cannot rear the boy in the comfort and opportunities she desires for him.

If she can get sufficient money through the sale of her baby, Mrs. Thompson said, she would go to Los Angeles and institute divorce proceedings. She believes the sale of the child will help her wipe out her debts.

An increased number of workmen have been assigned to the manufacture of the Oldsmobile cab, according to latest reports from the Olds Motor Works, Lansing, Mich. The increased production of this model has been made necessary by an unprecedented and unexpected demand.

Officials report. The increase is believed due in a large measure to the increased number of women who this year have entered the ranks of motorists.

"When the cab, a closed car for two passengers, was put in the Oldsmobile line, it was designed chiefly for use by business and professional men," said C. H. Hunter, 208 West Broadway, local dealer. "With that idea in view, it was anticipated that the demand for this type of car would tend to decrease slightly with the coming of warm weather, at which time most business men and professional men would have already purchased their automobiles."

'Death Rays' Sought By Powerful Nations

LONDON, May 29.—An international scramble has set in for "death rays," which are so destructive, scientists claim, that their possession will make war virtually impossible in the future. It was reported here that the United States has joined England and France in seeking the formula for the deadly germs which are supposed to be able to put airplane motors out of commission, kill armies and set fires at many miles distance.

The national academy of science at Washington is understood to have called Professor F. J. Wall of Sheffield university for the particulars of his "death ray" invention. Great Britain's efforts to obtain the formula for the destructive beam invented by Professor Grindell Matthews has been unsuccessful so far, but scientists employed by the government are experimenting along the same line.

Laundries Agree to More Pay for Girls

SAN FRANCISCO, May 29.—Bachelors of this city heaved profound sighs of relief following announcement by the Laundry Workers' Union that eight of the thirty-three local laundries had agreed to pay the new wage scale, an increase of $2 a week, and that the possibility of a strike was lessening every day.

Should the balance of the employers fail to fall into line, it was announced by Miss Anne Brown, secretary of the employees' organization, calling a strike will be considered at the next regular union meeting Monday.

The minimum wage agreement would increase salaries from $17 a week to $19, with a maximum of $33.75, under the new scale.

There are only six or seven persons in this country who made a profession of examining questionable documents to detect fraud.

PROVES FALSITY OF OLD PROVERB

Boston Chemist Weaves Silk Purse From Pig's Ear Through Science

NEW YORK, May 30.—Modern science has disproved the old aphorism that "You can't make a silk purse from a sow's ear," said Prof. Alexander Silverman, head of the department of chemistry in the University of Pittsburgh, says in a statement describing America's advance to world leadership in the natural and artificial silk manufacture.

A Boston chemist, resenting the pessimism of the proverb, has literally made a beautifully colored silk purse in this way. He obtained the ears from a western abattoir, extracted the gelatine, purified it, hardened it with formaldehyde, rendered it flexible with glycerine and dyed and spun the resulting filaments.

"While artificial silk is not manufactured commercially from sows' ears," Prof. Silverman points out, "this example of the fallacy of a time-worn saying should bring us a further realization of what science can do if driven to furnish the proof."

CALL MEETING ON TAX REFERENDUM

City Manager Stone Will Represent Glendale in Gas Matter

A meeting called by Councilman Ralph Criswell and other members of the public works committee of the Los Angeles city council for the purpose of discussing the gasoline tax referendum this fall will be held at the council chamber in Los Angeles Saturday morning, May 31, at 10 o'clock. V. B. Stone, city manager, will represent Glendale, and will possibly be accompanied by Ray L. Morrow, city attorney.

The League of California Municipalities is sponsoring a series of these meetings in an effort to get what they consider a more equal distribution of the tax money collected through the provisions of the motor vehicle act and the state gasoline tax of 2 cents per gallon.

California Film Is Drawing Big Crowds

LOS ANGELES, May 29.—Frank Wiggins, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, this morning received a telegram from C. W. Clegg at Grand Island, Neb., stating that the Southwest Realty Board is showing "Man-Made Eden," the Southern California booster film, to capacity crowds at each stop along the way to the national real estate convention in Washington, D. C.

Among the Esquimaux it is customary to speak of one another as worth so many dogs.

HOUSEWIVES SEE NEW GAS RANGES

Demonstrations at Store Are Well Attended by Glendale Citizens

That modern cooking methods in connection with a modernly equipped gas range have an immediate appeal to housewives is the opinion expressed today by S. F. Bell of the Wilson-Bell Hardware company at 227 North Brand boulevard.

During the past week a special demonstration of the Quick Meal Gas Range has been in progress at this store and the response accorded is indicative of intense interest on the part of Glendale housewives, asserts Mr. Bell.

O. J. Merrill, who has been in charge of the demonstration, declares that the gas-saving features as well as the zinc-lined, nonrustable oven were outstanding in the praise given them by their visitors. The Quick Meal gas range has met with the general approval of all Glendale women who are fortunate enough to own one, he said.

Many new models of this range in various styles and sizes have just been received by the firm and now are being exhibited on their salesroom floor.

Ad Men's Convention Is Brought to Close

FRESNO, May 29.—Advertising will increase the consumption of raisins to 2,500,000 tons this year, Ralph P. Merritt, president of the Sun Maid Raisin Growers, told members of the Pacific Coast Advertising clubs at their convention here.

The convention closed with a monster banquet at which Governor Richardson awarded twenty-two trophies to the winners of various events.

The San Francisco club with their skit, "Anthony Makes His Mark," an advertising burlesque, won the annual stunt trophy over the Los Angeles club, which finished second. San Diego was third.

A. O. Loomis of Portland won the cup for the best three-minute speech.

Motoring now is the greatest diversion of the world's peoples.

ANNOUNCE TIME PARADE TO START

Column to Leave Burbank City Hall at 9 o'Clock Tomorrow Morning

BURBANK, May 29.—The Memorial day parade will start from the City hall at 9 o'clock tomorrow morning, it is announced by Commander W. H. Adams of Burbank Post No. 150, American Legion. The line of march will take in the business section of San Fernando boulevard and the column will then halt at the Thomas A. Edison school, where a short program will be given, which will include music by the Burbank Municipal band and the singing of "The Star-Spangled Banner."

Short addresses will be made by Mayor J. C. Crawford and by Byron Pitts of Los Angeles, chief deputy district attorney.

Following the program, the parade will proceed to the Grand View cemetery for services and the decoration of graves, which will be done by the Burbank Girl Scouts under the direction of Mrs. Sproule. There will be singing by the girls' chorus of the Edison school, which will give "America, the Beautiful."

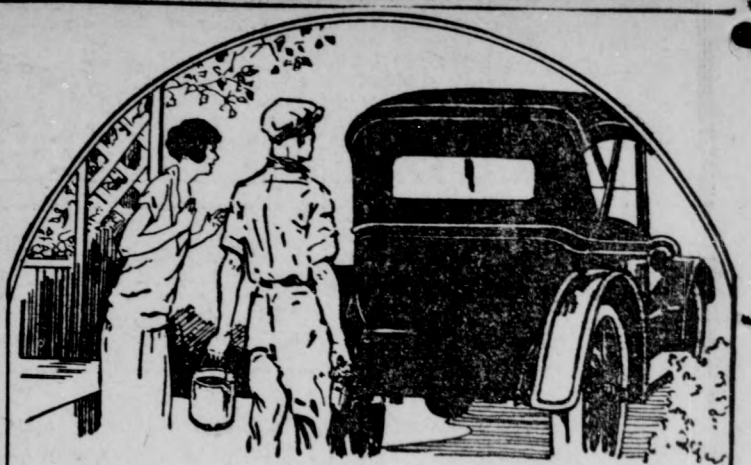

Fishing Good
Messrs. J. M. Offill, William Simral and Greenman went to Santa Monica deep sea fishing early Sunday morning. Consequently the neighbors in the vicinity of the three have been eating barracuda ever since.

D. J. Berkson and family are expected to arrive this week from Portland, Ore., to take up their residence in this city. They are friends of the Leo Bush family.

Garage Manager Is Wounded by Robber

LOS ANGELES, May 29.—William J. Ross, 35, night manager of the Hoover garage, 2020 South Union avenue, was standing outside his establishment. Inside, he observed a prowler, he told police. When he investigated the burglar held him up at the point of a gun and they grappled, he said. Ross was treated at the receiving station for a bullet wound in the left leg.

the work from Central avenue to Pacific avenue, which has already been started.

Will Hasten Work
Following his request, Ben S. Dupuy, city engineer, was instructed by the council to rush this work with all possible speed. The city attorney stated that the "slip" was not local to Broadway, but existed as far south as Harvard and had been overcome when Hawthorne and Ivy streets were opened. He stated that although it involves a great number of technicalities, the "slip" did not necessarily mean that the widening to San Fernando road would have to be abandoned. He was instructed to give a full report of what could be done in the matter next Thursday.

New Street Lighting Proposed for London

LONDON, May 29.—Flood-lighting of London from great towers 500 feet in height, in place of the existing system of individual lighting, is suggested by a public body of lighting engineers just constituted here.

The theory is to flood the whole of the inner area of the city with artificial light after nightfall by powerful constellations of electric lights fixed on high columns of steel, placed at eight different points.

It is contended that this system will save an enormous amount and prevent the huge waste of illumination caused by the rays from small individual lamps hitting the sides of shops and houses before their fullest power has been exhausted.

France plans to spend 200,000 francs for the development of her fishing industry.

Villain Takes $31 From Under Night Watchman's Pillow

When it comes to winning the prize as the best night watchman, H. Leard gets the mosquito's smoking jacket.

Leard was engaged to watch a new house under the course of construction at 317 East Stocker street. It was a "soft" job, and Leard has a nice tent in which to while away the long hours of the night.

After seeing his stores of cement sacks, two-by-fours and hardwood finishing lumber safely to bed last night, he laid down to have a nice rest.

He reported to the police this morning that while he slumbered some villain had stolen $31 from underneath his pillow.

The latest check reveals that the building material was still there.

JAIL COMEDIAN IN GIRL ATTACK

Frank Tinney Arrested on Charges of Assault on Follies Beauty

NEW YORK, May 29.—Frank Tinney, nationally known stage comedian, was arrested today on a charge of having "feloniously assaulted" 21-year-old Imogene Wilson, a Zeigfeld Follies beauty.

Several days ago Miss Wilson, formerly a convent girl at St. Joseph, Mo., attempted suicide and a day or two later Tinney beat her, she charged. Tinney was arrested at his summer home at Baldwin, N. Y.

Tinney is married and has a son. His wife is the former Miss Edna Davenport, musical comedy actress. Tinney was brought to the West Sixty-eighth street police station. There he denied Miss Wilson's charges. The comedian laughed and joked with police and appeared to be enjoying his arrest immensely. He said he was confident the charge against him would be dropped.

The laughing died and the smile faded from Tinney's face when he was held in $2500 bail.

Bolivian Revolution Now Well In Control

LA PAZ, Bolivia, May 29.—A revolution which has been causing much trouble to the country and great worry to the Government of Dr. Saavedra, the President of Bolivia, came to an end when the rebels, completely beaten by the loyal troops, crossed the Argentine border and dispersed themselves among the Hacho wild forest.

Yacuba, the stronghold of the rebels for more than three months has been captured by the Government troops, and 10,000 modern infantry guns, hundreds of boxes of bullets, several field guns and all kinds of war material were found and confiscated by the representatives of the Constitutional Government.

The state of siege, however, is still in effect all over Bolivia, for fear of new revolutionary outbreaks, and the Government has taken extensive precautions against the return of the rebels to Bolivian soil.

Yale Tower Mystery To University Boys

NEW HAVEN, Conn., May 29.—Harkness Tower gracefully above cluttered roofs of Yale university and a dominating architectural feature of New Haven, is an unknown quantity to Yale students, and one of them plaintively writes the college daily: "It seems a pity to leave Yale without having seen the inside as well as the outside of Harkness Tower."

Within the tower, rising hundreds of feet above the campus, is supposed to be a memorial room of some sort, but apparently university officials have seen fit to open it only once since the tower was built, and hundreds of students are consumed with curiosity about the place.

LUMBER
SEATTLE, May 29.—The cut in wages in the lumber industry which went into effect today in the Pacific Northwest, averaging 5 per cent, with a minimum of $3.40 to $3.60 a day, has been accepted by all camps, but many lumber workers are out of employment, as mills are curtailing sharply.

TEXTILES

Stone to Launch Prosecutions In War Fraud Cases

WASHINGTON, May 29.—Vigorous prosecution of war fraud cases by the department of justice is to start at once, Attorney-General Stone announced today. He estimated that about $50,000,000 was at stake in the civil suits which the government will undertake.

NEW YORK CLOSING

H. J. DUISZEND
For International News Service

NEW YORK, May 29.—A holiday atmosphere prevailed in the stock market today. The approach 3-day suspension of trading was by no means conducive to speculative operations.

Whatever initiative was shown was toward lower prices, but short selling was desultory. Still, this pressure imparted a rather heavy tone to the going lists.

The only group in which operations for the decline were conducted with a certain measure of success were the oils. Bears based their selling on the further expansion in the country's crude oil production during the week ended May 24 and the increase of 3,397,000 barrels in the crude oil stocks in April.

Rumors also were persistent that large independents in the mid-continent field were about to cut prices and that last year's pro-rating policy by pipe lines would again be put into effect. Losses from a fraction to a point were established in most petroleum issues, with Cossden hitting a new low for the current year.

Sugars and rubbers displayed a steadier tone, due to the closing out of short commitments, but steels, equipments, motors, accessories, coppers, leathers and shippings tended slightly lower.

Railroad stocks were practically neglected. Pere Marquette was the only strong spot in the group while Norfolk and Western was still suffering from the selling emanating from holders who were disappointed over the slow progress in the lease negotiations with the Pennsylvania management.

Money conditions were extremely tight. Call loans were renewed at 3 per cent, but borrowers were able to obtain fresh accommodations at 2 1/2 per cent.

Cotton and grains were firm. Bonds were irregular. Both the $35,000,000 Baltimore & Ohio and the $7,734,000 New Orleans, Texas & Mexico offerings were regarded heavily, over-subscribed, but on the other hand these states have also suffered from the check to automobile tourists.

In some cases on the California border, babies in arms accompanying automobile parties have been stopped, undressed and fumigated for an hour with formaldehyde. It has been established, incidentally, that formaldehyde fumes have no effect on foot and mouth germs unless the latter are treated for at least ten hours. Under some embargoes, canned fruit from California put up a year before the outbreak of the disease cannot be carried across adjoining state lines by automobile although it may be exported by rail. It has cost some of the states involved $1,000 a day to enforce these Gilbert and Sullivan provisions.

SEATTLE, May 29.—Lower commodity prices to the consumer are strongly in evidence in the Pacific Northwest. In this city milk, butter, eggs and meat all have become cheaper. Eggs now are down to somewhere near pre-war figures, quotations ranging from 26 to 30 cents a dozen. Sugar has dropped to $7.40 to $7.50 a hundred pounds, or less than one-third prices current in 1920. Milk is selling at 9 cents a quart. Prices for hogs and steers in Northwestern stock yards have fallen about 15 cents a hundred for the former to 50 cents for the latter. This is expected to bring all retail meat prices lower.

CLEVELAND, O., May 29.—Although the general trend of business here is downward, there are some favorable signs prevailing. One bright spot is the industrial Fibre plant, where over 6,000 pounds of artificial silk are being made daily. The company contemplates remodeling the plant to allow a 15 per cent production increase. In general, however, the Cleveland textile trade is feeling the result of general excitement. Bank deposits continue to grow.

LIVE STOCK
TOPEKA, Kan., May 29.—Some sections of the big grazing areas of Kansas which were getting dry have been hit by a no section now is in acute need of moisture, although precipitation would do the top soil good in southern Kansas and Oklahoma. Because there have been no wet spells the grass carries good fattening qualities for cattle.

EL PASO, May 29.—More favorable regulations have been put into effect with regard to the importation of American live stock into Mexico as a result of a conference between the Mexican authorities and the Texas live stock sanitary commission.

ELECTRICAL EQUIPMENT
ST. PAUL, May 29.—The first of the four generators of the new electric power plant at High Dam will be completed June 21. The power produced will be used by the Northern States Power company to supply commercial patrons in the Twin Cities until the Ford factory is in operation.

FRUIT
SAN BERNARDINO, May 29.—The expected curtailment of the lemon crop because of early season drought will not materialize. The crop is expected to be fully up to normal. Late rains also have benefited the orange crop, the Valencia yield just coming in being of good size and quality.

STEEL
PITTSBURGH, May 29.—Buyers of steel who accumulated some stocks early in the year are liquidating, while consumption has decreased, the consequence being a long drawn out period before an actual revival. Close observers, however, predict a renewal of interest in the market some time before fall.

Ships giving the best returns for the investment are those 600 feet in length, it is estimated.

BUSINESS WORLD

By J. C. ROYLE
Special Correspondent of The Evening News, Copyright 1924.

NEW YORK, May 29.—California is rapidly repairing the damage resulting from the prevalence of the hoof and mouth disease. But many millions of dollars which normally would have found their way into the pockets and banks of California this summer, are not being spent in this manner. The reason, according to men in the railroad, agricultural and industrial fields there, is because the facts of the epidemic were not laid before the public at large.

After 31 states had declared quarantines against California, however, three men in widely different industries were called in to make those facts public. The facts were the reverse of damaging, and undoubtedly much of the harm has been counteracted. But, without doubt, many people have been kept away from the state and from the West this summer who now cannot be persuaded to make the trip. Since each tourist, either by rail or automobile, spends a very appreciable amount each day on such a trip, the total deficiency will be heavy.

The amount of loss through slaughtered cattle is largely negligible. The agricultural output of the state, including cattle, is valued at $400,000,000 and $500,000,000 annually. The value of herds slaughtered so far is only slightly above $2,000,000 or less than one-half of one per cent of the total.

The loss of some of these cattle can hardly be considered in the light of a loss, since it will be replaced by sheep, cattle and hogs of far better grade than those slaughtered at the order of federal and state authorities. It is estimated at least $50,000 head of spring lambs will have been sold by the end of this month at advantageous prices.

Some of the nearby embargoes have resulted in a temporary advantage to farmers of neighboring states who have been called on to fill immediate demands for vegetables and other products, but on the other hand these states have also suffered from the check to automobile tourists.

VIOLET NEITZ, talented character actress appearing with Murphy's Comedians in "Nothing but the Truth," now showing nightly at North Brand boulevard and Stocker street, Casa Verdugo.

In selecting Violet Neitz to play one of the important roles in the famous comedy, "Nothing but the Truth," an up-but the Truth," J. A. Menard of Murphy's Comedians has chosen one of the most promising of the younger actresses on the Pacific coast.

Added to her marked personal charm is a keen sense of histrionic values. It is predicted by all who have seen her that she will go far.

Murphy's Comedians open their doors at 7:15 o'clock nightly, and the curtain rises at 8:15 o'clock.

"Nothing but the Truth," now showing at the big brown tent on North Brand boulevard and Stocker street, is regarded as one of the cleverest farce-comedies ever written. It sets forth in hilarious fashion the efforts of a young clubman to win a wager by telling the strict truth for a certain period. He succeeds so admirably that several divorce suits begin to loom on the horizon, and his friends realize they must get him out of town—so they kidnap him.

This results in one of the funniest situations ever seen on the stage. The play ends in the most surprising manner.

"Nothing but the Truth," now presented nightly by Murphy's Comedians until Sunday, June 1, when "The Squash Head," an uproarious comedy, will open. As its name suggests, this play has to do with a certain variety of "dumbbell" whose brains do not appear to certain parties to be any too plentiful.

A six months' lease with option to buy has been executed between J. A. Menard of Murphy's Comedians and A. Houston Jones, for the Brand and Stocker site where they are now located. Mr. Menard plans to erect a large theatre in Glendale in the near future and states that he has turned over to the Frank Meline company, through whose Glendale office the lease was made, a 414-acre tract in Sacramento, for immediate subdivision, and that with the proceeds Murphy's Comedians will build in Glendale a $250,000 Class A theatre of 2000 seats.

"We like Glendale and will invest our money for a permanent home here," declared Mr. Menard. "It is the friendliest city we have ever played and in many ways ideal for the founding of such a theatre as we contemplate."
